War? How Soon?

Mr. Capone Protests

PLENTY OF INTEREST and excitement in Friday's news. British pounds, compared with French francs, fell to the lowest point ever reached. France predicts early "devaluation of American currency," official cutting down of the value of the dollar, as the French cut down the value of their franc, from 100 centimes (worth twenty cents) to 20 centimes (worth 4 cents).

If we should imitate that here our dollars would officially be worth twenty cents each, instead of one hundred cents. That would take some adjustment, but whether you cheapen money by reducing the number of cents in the dollar or by reducing the dollar's actual value would make little difference.

RECENTLY MUSSOLINI said, "war, when it comes, will come like a flash," but he did not expect it soon. Now he expects it "at any moment," tells Italians it is their duty "to become war-like," and declares that war would have broken out after the Dolfuss murder had he not sent Italian troops to the Austrian border.

RUSSIA BEGINS to use "plain language with Japan." Japan is warned to "cease aggression and free Russian railroad men that have been seized."

And Moscow warns Tokyo to "make all necessary inferences," the inferences in this case being that if Tokyo does not behave there will be some shooting and bomb throwing.

SOMETHING DISAGREEABLE may come of that Japanese-Russian situation, although it would be foolish to let it come.

With all respect for the courage, determination and fighting ability of Japan, it must be said that Japan could not conquer the Russia of today, now organized and closely united. It is also probable that Russian armies could and would destroy the chief Japanese cities with bombs, and burn up combustible Japanese towns and villages with fire bombs.

Japan and Russia should be interested in the battle between a big scorpion and a small spider, "Black Widow," one of the deadliest of insects.

The battle had been going on for sixty-eight hours yesterday afternoon, in the corner of a garage at Long Beach, Calif.

The "Black Widow," with a bite known to kill human beings, acts with intelligence and speed, spinning her web around the scorpion, while waiting for a chance to sting. With her web she has made one of the scorpion's pincers useless, and, at last accounts, was trying to enwrap the scorpion's sting.

She had with her web, lifted the scorpion, three times her size, three inches off the floor.

The difference in size between the

WIMBERLY'S FATHER REFUSES STATEMENT

Queried last night concerning the time for a preliminary hearing for Rush Wimberly, Jr., who is held in the Ouachita parish jail under charges of criminal assault and kidnapping, Rush Wimberly, Sr., Arcadia lawyer, declared he had no statement to make.

Asked if he planned to act as his son's attorney, Wimberly said, "I have no statement to make about that, either."

The younger Wimberly, who is 28 years old, was arrested at his home in Arcadia last Wednesday after Mrs. E. H. Martin, 19, had accused him of criminally attacking her here at the home of a negro last Sunday and after Miss Anne Henderson, 22, had charged him with kidnapping her in connection with the same case.

A negro man and woman who allegedly detained Miss Henderson at their home while the alleged attack was being made, are free under bonds of $1,500 each.

Young Wimberly has declared "there's nothing to it."

Radio Entertainers Win Hunger Strike

MEXICO, D. F., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Radio station XEAL's unique hunger strike ended here late this afternoon, as Pan American Radio company, owners of the station, paid 62 employees the full amount of back salaries they were demanding.

Ramon Perez, announcer, who weighs only slightly more than the Mahatma Gandhi, held the record—104 hours. He had talked nearly continuously the whole time.

Although the strikers at the end were too weak to participate in broadcasts which at 4 p. m. today had been in progress for 106 hours, programs were being continued indefinitely by employees of other stations.

An earlier offer by the Pan-American company to pay part of the salaries now and the rest within a day had been rejected by the strikers.

RIOTING CONVICTS CORRALED AFTER WRECKING PRISON

Damage Caused By Ram-paging Men To Reach Thousands Of Dollars

NO SHOTS ARE FIRED

Trouble Starts At Kitchen; Machine Guns Cow 200 Prisoners

COLLEGEVILLE, Pa., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Two hundred rampaging convicts were corraled in a wire-enclosed freight siding at the Graterford prison farm of the Eastern penitentiary tonight, to await transfer to the "Cherry Hill" branch of the prison in Philadelphia. State police, highway patrolmen and guards kept watch over them after a riotous three hours.

Fires started by the prisoners and other destructive tactics caused a loss of thousands of dollars, it was said officially, but not a shot was fired. There were no serious casualties, and none of the convicts escaped.

Dr. Guy Holcombe, head of the prison board of trustees, said he did not know what started the outbreak, but added an investigation is beginning without delay.

"As near as we can find out, one of the trucks inside the prison wall pulled up to the kitchen platform."

REITERATES PRESS CENSORING CHARGE

Republican Senator Says Administration Is To 'Force Censorship'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Senator Schall, Republican, Minnesota, sent an open letter to President Roosevelt today reiterating that the administration intends to "force a censorship of the press."

It followed a demand by the president for the "facts" on which the senator based his recent assertion that plans are under consideration for a national press service to take the place of the Associated Press, the Hearst News Service, and the United Press. This service, Schall said, would "have exclusive use of all government news and be in a position to give its service only to those newspapers loyal to the Roosevelt administration."

"Since I should assume that the statements were not made without basis in fact," Mr. Roosevelt telegraphed the senator late yesterday, "I request that you give me the benefit of such facts as you have in support of the charges you caused to"

PROBE PROMISED BY MAYOR BELL

An investigation into current rumors that motorists allegedly have been recently detained by West Monroe traffic policemen for traffic violations and reportedly forced to immediately furnish cash bail to the arresting officers without recourse to the city court was promised yesterday by Mayor C. C. Bell.

When informed of the rumors by a Morning World reporter, Mayor Bell said he had heard of no such action on the part of West Monroe officers. He said that if the complainants would report to the proper authorities, they would immediately investigate the charges.

Mayor Bell said that as soon as J. C. Cobb, chief of West Monroe police, returns from his vacation, he would ask the officer to look into the matter.

Taxable Wealth Of Mary And Doug Shows Decline

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 25.—(AP)—A distinct drop in the taxable wealth of Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks was disclosed today in the records of the county tax collector and county auditor.

The figures became public while Doug and Mary continued to shroud in privacy the progress of a possible reconciliation, after a separation of fourteen months. Every precaution was taken to keep their trysts secret.

The records showed that the taxable wealth of Mary in Los Angeles had dropped three quarters of a million dollars in the past year, while the wealth of Doug here went down about two thirds of a million. These figures are based on assessed valuations.

Mary Pickford's assessed taxable wealth in Los Angeles this year was $1,350,770, compared with $2,685,390 last year. Actual value may be many times these assessment figures.

Douglas Fairbanks rates assessed valuation for holdings in Los Angeles this year of $1,065,530, compared with $1,696,930 last year.

The Clown Who Would Be King

BAIRD IS NAMED LEGION'S CHIEF

Baton Rouge Is Chosen As Next Convention City Of Veterans

LAKE CHARLES, La., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Bruce Baird, New Orleans, vice commander of the Louisiana American Legion department, was elevated to commander in the closing session of the department convention here today when he won over Jack Sichtermann, Alexandria, eighth district commander, by a vote of 265 to 222.

Sichtermann conceded defeat before the ballots were counted and moved for unanimous election of Baird, which was acclaimed by the convention.

District posts voted by sections in line with party convention procedure: M. J. Fruge of Eunice, seventh district commander, was unanimously elected vice commander.

Baton Rouge was selected as the 1935 convention city.

District elections resulted in election of James C. (Jim) Casserly, New Orleans, first district commander; Edward Keller, vice commander; Edwin Meyer, Thibodaux, third district commander; Francis Theall, Abbeville, vice commander; E. L. Gladney, Bastrop, fifth district commander; Warren Hunt, Rayville, vice commander; Dr. E. M. LaFite, Crowley, seventh district commander; and Henry Larcade, Opelousas, vice commander.

Rev. J. Shearer, Clinton, was elected department chaplain. Ex-officio delegates to the national convention in Miami will be Sam H. Jones, Lake Charles, Louisiana national committeeman; Larry Fox, Ruston, retiring department commander, now junior past commander, and Baird.

District delegates elected to the national convention were Leo Morris,

Allred Is Ahead For Governor

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 25.—(AP)—James V. Allred, 35-year-old state attorney general, led Tom F. Hunter, Wichita Falls attorney and oil man, for the Texas governorship tonight in early tabulations of the vote from today's runoff primary.

The governorship is being relinquished by Mrs. Miriam A. "Ma" Ferguson.

The total, with 303,676 votes out of a possible million counted from 148 of the state's 254 counties, gave: Allred 160,284; Hunter, 143,392.

Early unofficial tabulations in a number of metropolitan areas showed that Allred, outspoken enemy of "Fergusonism," was leading there.

However, Hunter expressed confi-

RENOVIZE DRIVE PLEDGES MOUNT

More Than $260,000 In Improvements Slated To Be Spent

More than $260,000 in alterations, repairs and other improvements to homes in Monroe and West Monroe have been pledged in the "Renovize the Twin Cities" campaign, which has been progressing since July 9, it was announced Saturday by S. H. McClary, the campaign manager.

The figures, which total $261,390.61, represent the results of the survey conducted in the two cities by a group of ERA workers, especially assigned to the task. The workers are now engaged in canvassing West Monroe, having completed their activities on the east side of the river about ten days ago.

Redemptions of pledges amounting to $46,709.61, have already been reported. This means, according to Manager McClary, that the work has been completed and checked, and final reports made to the renovize headquarters. It does not include work that is already under way and uncompleted.

Body Of Homer Van Meter Reaches Fort Wayne, Ind.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 25.—(AP)—The body of Homer Van Meter, slain Dillinger gangster, arrived here at 1:25 o'clock this afternoon and was taken immediately to an undertaking parlor.

There was no one at the train to meet the body but Harry Van Meter, the dead gangster's brother. He said the body would be transferred to another casket and then placed in a receiving vault at the Lindenwood cemetery. There will be no funeral services or burial today, he said. The time for holding the services and the burial are not known.

GERMANS GATHER IN SAAR REGION

Great Mobilization Of Loyalty Is Scheduled For Today

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—(AP)—More than 200 special trains rolled through Germany toward the Rhine today for a great mobilization of loyalty to the Saar territory tomorrow.

This section, immensely wealthy in natural resources, votes January 13, 1935, whether to return to German sovereignty, remain under the mandate of the league of nations, or be attached to France.

The mobilization recalls the celebration of the evacuation of the Rhineland four years ago, but this time it is on an infinitely bigger scale. Celebrations in 1930 hailed the departure of the last French troops from Rhineland cities. Tomorrow's loyalty demonstration is designed to foreshadow the march of German sovereignty into the Saar.

The reich's ponderous propaganda machinery, which just a week ago overwhelmed the nation with suggestions, admonitions and commands to vote "yes" is hurling its whole weight into the task of concentrating the nation's emotion on the Saar.

Millions who voted then in support of Hitler's assumption of presidential powers, will tomorrow think and feel the Saar. Literally hundreds of thousands of them are traveling in the general direction of the disputed section, by train, steamboat, automobile, bicycle and afoot.

After sweltering Saturday under an official maximum temperature of 98 degrees, Monroe enjoyed a cool night after the mercury descended rapidly in the late afternoon and early evening on the heels of threatening thunderstorms and strong winds. The official minimum for the 24-hour period ending at 7 o'clock last night was 73 degrees, according to Miss Katie Key, local government weather observer.

The Natural Gas company thermometer at the city hall registered a 15-degree drop between 6 o'clock and 9 o'clock and a 21-degree fall between 9 o'clock and 9 o'clock Saturday. At 3 p. m. the reading was 96 degrees, at 6 p. m. it was 90 degrees and at 9 p. m. it showed 75 degrees.

Light rains fell intermittently during the day.

Screen Actress Sues Husband For Divorce

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Separated a year ago, Sue Carol, dark-haired screen actress, and Nick Stuart, film player, carried their marital differences into the divorce courts today.

The actress charged that Stuart once threw a crossword puzzle book at her head, refused to speak to her for days on end, became sullen and surly, exhibited extreme jealousy and berated her because she entertained friends at her home.

HOME OF MAYOR BOMBED AS ONION WORKERS STRIKE

Ohio Union Leader Is Clubbed, Kidnaped, And Returns Safely

SITUATION IS TENSE

50 Deputies Are Placed On Duty; National Guard Watching

MGUFFEY, Ohio, Aug. 25.—(AP)—A day of violence including the bombing of the Mayor's home and the clubbing of a union leader whipped the Scioto marshland onion strike toward a showdown tonight.

All eyes are on Okey Odell, 38-year-old strike leader, who was clubbed and spirited away early today by non-union workers or their sympathizers—but lived to return and defy his enemies.

The town's nervous grapevine late today carried the new ultimatum that Odell had better leave town tonight. To the scores of persons milling on the streets—or anybody who cared to listen the swashbuckling Odell replied:

"Tell 'em to go to hell."

Late this afternoon he went to bed, haggard and worn. He went to sleep with a revolver under his pillow and a half dozen friends at his doorway.

MISSISSIPPI VOTE SLATED TUESDAY

Interest Centers On Senate Race With 4 Candidates Running

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Mississippi voters settled back over the week-end for final reflection on a slate of 80 entries for 36 public offices ranging from United States senate to chancery judge, in addition to a scattering of county judge contests of more or less interest.

Entering the home stretch with feverish eleventh-hour bids for votes, candidates will scatter to all parts of the state Monday for final blasts on the eve of the battle of ballots Tuesday that will decide winners in the first primary.

With interest focusing largely on the four cornered race for the junior U. S. senatorship, voters eyed the final maneuvers of Senator Hubert D. Stephens, former Governor Theo G. Bilbo, Congressman Ross A. Collins and state Senator Frank Harper.

From three of these rival camps today came pre-primary statements expressing confidence of victory.

BANDITS ABANDON HOLDUP ATTEMPT

ALEXANDRIA, La., Aug. 25.—(AP)—An attempt by unnamed bandits to rob the bank of LeCompte today was foiled when Wade H. Jones, president of the bank, reached for a Winchester rifle. Before he could do so, the bandits apparently became frightened and left the bank without obtaining any loot.

A short time after the bank opened for the day, three men in a small coach drove up and stopped. Two of the men entered the bank, while the third member of the trio remained in the car. The two who went in the bank drew pistols and commanded the officials to throw up their hands.

G. P. Davis, cashier, who was waiting on a customer, entered the vault, and President Jones went behind the vault to get a rifle, but before he got the weapon, the bandits decided to call off the hold-up, went out of the bank, entered their car and drove in the direction of Forest Hill.

After sweltering Saturday under an official maximum temperature of 98 degrees, Monroe enjoyed a cool night after the mercury descended rapidly in the late afternoon and early evening on the heels of threatening thunderstorms and strong winds. Another Woman Is Sought In Alabama Co-Ed's Death

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 25.—(AP)—A woman whose name has not figured heretofore in the case was sought by officers today as a key witness in the mysterious slaying of Faye New, 19-year-old Howard college co-ed.

The nature of the evidence officers expected their new witness to give was not disclosed.

Detectives, following a tip received earlier, sought a new witness in vain last night, but today they hoped their search would be more successful.

Attaches of the solicitors office, preparing evidence for submission to the special session of the grand jury called to investigate the co-ed's slaying Monday, indicated that their case would be ready for presentation if the new witness is found.

Assistant Solicitor Robert McAdory, who has been working on the co-ed murder case since Faye New's body was found in a ditch Wednesday, said today the grand jury should complete its work in a day or two.

Meanwhile, Harold Taylor, charged with the girl's murder, accused the police department of "persecuting

BODY OF MAN IS FOUND IN TRUNK

Corpse Of Ex-Convict Discovered At Statesbury's Home

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(AP)—The body of a man was found in a trunk today in the arway of General Louis W. Statesbury's home and later was identified through fingerprints as that of Bernard McMahon, 41, an ex-convict.

Police said the McMahon, who was also known as "Dalton" and "Murray," had been arrested six times since 1914, the last time in 1933 for the theft of a truck.

He served a sentence in the Elmira, N. Y., reformatory according to officials.

The mutilated body, its legs severed at the knees, was found jammed in a trunk in the arway of the home of General Statesbury, in a fashionable residential district today.

The body was badly crushed and bruised. The legs were wrapped in brown paper. The trunk which contained the gruesome cargo was metal, measuring three feet in length and two feet in width.

Police theorized that McMahon perhaps had not met death in the familiar gangland "ride" fashion. This belief was expressed after an autopsy disclosed that the left leg of the body was gangrenous.

This condition might have at least contributed largely to McMahon's death, if it did not cause it, said Dr. Norris.

Dr. Norris found seven shotgun slugs in the left leg and two more in the thigh. He and detectives considered the possibility that McMahon might have suffered the wounds in a holdup, that his confederates had secreted him, and when he died through lack of proper medical attention, had placed the body in the trunk.

MRS. LEWIS ORDERED TO LEAVE GERMANY

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Mrs. Sinclair Lewis, who writes under her maiden name of Dorothy Thompson, today was ordered by the secret police to leave Germany within 24 hours.

Following the receipt of the expulsion order, Mrs. Lewis issued a statement in which she said she was informed that the order "was based chiefly upon an interview with Hitler which I had in 1931 and which, apart from quoting Hitler, was purely a personal impression of personality."

"I would like to point out," she said, "that it was written sometime before Hitler became chancellor and when he did not enjoy the support of more than 35 per cent of the people, so that it is difficult to see how an adverse impression at that time could be interpreted as an attack on Germany."

The injured, both in a Memphis hospital, are:

Beverly Sherard, 13, severe lacerations of the head.

Mrs. E. L. Rawles, suffering from shock.

The girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. Holmes Sherard of Sherard, Miss., and their aunt were enroute home from a vacation trip to Montreat, N. C. Mr. Sherard is a Delta planter.

A negro, driver of the truck, was held in jail at Hernando, Miss., tonight in connection with the accident.

The Sherard family and Mrs. Rawles were returning to Mississippi in two cars. Mr. and Mrs. Sherard stopped here and the girls and aunt continued.

Tobacco Ads Are Taboo In College Newspaper

ARKADELPHIA, Ark., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Tobacco ads displaying comely maidens smoking cigarettes were considered to be the limbo of the taboo today, by order of Dr. J. R. Grant, president of Ouachita college, a Baptist institution.

"We don't see how the 'Signal' can be published without the advertising revenue," mourned Editor Wilfred Lee and Business Manager Lawson Glover of the college publication.

Said President Grant: "I much prefer that Ouachita college not have a college paper than it be supported by tobacco advertisements."

NEUTRAL ORLEANS LEADERS TO TAKE HAND IN ELECTION

100 Of City's Outstanding Men Call For Volunteers At Polls

FAIR BALLOT PLEDGED

Time Of Huey Long's Investigation Still Remains In Doubt

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Plain citizens who have stood in the gap between the armed political camps of Senator Huey P. Long and Mayor T. Semmes Walmesley for more than a month, today decided to take a hand in the proceedings.

Banding themselves into a "determined but peaceful" group, 100 leading men in the community, prominent in social, civic and professional affairs but who ordinarily take no prominent part in politics, called on their fellow-citizens to join with them in preserving orderly procedure at the polls when the Long and Walmesley factions go to the mat in the congressional primary on September 11.

"Impassioned with the necessity of a nonpartisan assurance to the public that the primary election will be fairly and peacefully held," their statement announced establishment of headquarters in a downtown office building for the registration of volunteers "having like aims" for service at the polling places on election day.

The committeemen did not elaborate on how they planned to proceed but they pledged that the primary "will be fairly and peacefully held, free from intimidation or violence, and that the vote therein will be fairly counted, tabulated and promulgated."

Despite a court order calling for demolition of national guardmen, they continued to occupy Jackson barracks and the city registration office tonight.

Mayor Walmesley's police force, augmented and heavily armed, continued to be held for any emergency which might arise between the battling factions.

Just when the state administration, controlled by Senator Long would start its investigation into the city administration of Mayor Walmesley remained in doubt, although Long freely expressed favor for a quick start. The inquiry was authorized last week by the same special legislature which voted dictatorial powers over the militia and elections into the hands of the Long group.

Walmesley today heaped denial on Long's charges that the city was

LOUISIANA GOODS BENEFIT IN PACT

State Commodities Affected In Cuban Reciprocal Trade Agreement

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Rice, lumber, salt, cottonseed oil and canned and dried shrimp were listed today as the principal Louisiana commodities to benefit from the new Cuban reciprocal trade agreement.

Jefferson Caffery, native of Louisiana, and American ambassador to Cuba, who helped negotiate the treaty, was one of the signers of the document.

The American embassy in Cuba recently succeeded in obtaining extension of the former forty per cent preference to include the consumption tax on rice. The new trade agreement now provides for a fifty per cent reduction in duty on American rice.

The concessions obtained upon gumwoods, pitch pine and other southern woods are of interest to Louisiana. The duty has been sharply reduced and will be found at that level for the life of the agreement.

In addition, European spruce which has been displacing American hardwoods for the manufacture of box shooks, will now be subject to the duty from which an arbitrary classification has hitherto exempted that lumber. The competitive position of American hardwoods will, therefore, be greatly improved, in the opinion of the state department.

The drastic decrease obtained by the United States in the duty on cottonseed oil is expected to prove to be exceedingly valuable to Louisiana exporters. By a treaty of 1926, Spain obtained a very low and fixed rate on Spanish olive oil. Subsequently, the rate on American cottonseed was increased twofold and more. The rate now will be lower than that on Spanish olive oil.

The Cuban people are relatively large consumers of canned and dried shrimp, especially in prosperous times. A fairly large reduction has been obtained in the duty on shrimp.

Reduction also will be made in the duty upon Louisiana salt.

Of lesser importance but still of interest to Louisianians, are the concessions obtained on cotton goods, rice bran, naval stores, broom, corn, creole onions, condiments, crackers and confectionery.

On such occasions as weddings and funerals, ancient customs are observed in China to such an extent that the cost keeps many families poor.

SNAKE TRAPPED BY TINY SPIDER

A foot long garter snake entered the cellar of a Baltimore home and sought to make a morsel of a shiny black spider, barely larger than a pinhead. Instead it ran afoul of the spider's web. Locked in a death duel for several days, the struggles of the reptile became less violent and the tide of battle was definitely in favor of the minute foe when the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals put an end to it by snipping off the snake's head. Bomb Pierces Black Cloud And Rain Starts To Fall

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Aug. 25.—(AP)—James Boze, the synthetic rain-maker, shoved one of his "moisture bombs" into a mortar near here late today, pointed it toward a threatening black cloud in the heavens, let it fly, and—there was rain!

As Boze, who had originally intended to drop his bombs from an airplane, prepared to release the shell from the ground, he told his crowd of spectators:

"Gentlemen, in ten minutes there will be rain."

Ten minutes later the crowd stood in the middle of a shower.

Boze said that immediately after the return here of his pilot, Wilfred Bottenfield, they would take 600 bombs into the air and release them in an effort to flood the drought-ravaged area. Bottenfield has gone to San Antonio to secure parachutes for the pair after government agents had refused to allow them to go aloft without them.

NEWELLTON NEGRO
NARROWLY ESCAPES
FROM JACKSON MOB
JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 25.—(AP)—A 30-year-old Louisiana negro who police charge attempted to assault an aged negro woman, narrowly escaped violence at the hands of an armed mob of negroes on the outskirts of Jackson tonight.

The negro, Willie Gellon, who said he was from Newellton, La., was rescued by Deputy Sheriff Ab Derrick and lodged in the county jail.

Deputy Derrick said the negroes, whom he estimated to number approximately 100, surrendered their prisoner peacefully, but admitted they had intended to do him bodily harm.

The officer said he found the negroes of the community where the alleged intended assault victim lived, highly incensed over the matter and had taken up a sweeping hunt for Gellon this afternoon as soon as word spread of the affair.

Derrick said many of the negroes were armed with shotguns, improvised cut-throats and other weapons.

The mob, however, had not harmed the negro when Derrick arrived.

The officer said a charge of attempted criminal assault would be preferred against Gellon, who has been in this section only a short time.

A proposed canal linking the Wash with the Severn and Thames rivers will make the third canal to cross Great Britain. Two others have been in use for years, the Caledonian and the Forth and Clyde.

the first primary was the prediction of his campaign manager, Georgy Neville, in an address at Utica this afternoon.

From former Governor Bilbo's headquarters came the prediction that this candidate likewise will be returned a winner without a runoff election.

Joseph Smith, campaign manager for Congressman Collins, was confident that his candidate will be "the ultimate winner." "If a second primary is necessary, Mr. Collins will easily defeat any opponent entering that race with him," Smith declared.

Meanwhile, the senatorial rivals were scattering over widely separated areas for their last-minute appeals to the electorate. Senator Stephens went into the northern section of the state for a rally at Senatobia Monday afternoon before going to his home at New Albany to cast his vote and receive election returns Tuesday.

Both Bilbo and Collins will wind up their campaigns far from home. The former will conclude a series of four speeches Monday with an address here after speeches at Morton, Pickens and a point yet to be selected in Scott county.

A statement from Bilbo headquarters said several strong supporters from over the state will report at the rally here and indicated the "stormy petrel" of Mississippi politics may furnish some political fireworks. The statement said Bilbo will "take time enough from his regular speech to pay his respects to certain enemies who have been circulating alleged false reports about his platform.

Congressman Collins will wind up his campaign farther away from home than his opponents—at Biloxi, where he speaks Monday night. Other engagements Monday will take him to Quitman, Waynesboro, Leakesville and Lucedale.

the first primary was the prediction of his campaign manager, Georgy Neville, in an address at Utica this afternoon.

From former Governor Bilbo's headquarters came the prediction that this candidate likewise will be returned a winner without a runoff election.

Joseph Smith, campaign manager for Congressman Collins, was confident that his candidate will be "the ultimate winner." "If a second primary is necessary, Mr. Collins will easily defeat any opponent entering that race with him," Smith declared.

Meanwhile, the senatorial rivals were scattering over widely separated areas for their last-minute appeals to the electorate. Senator Stephens went into the northern section of the state for a rally at Senatobia Monday afternoon before going to his home at New Albany to cast his vote and receive election returns Tuesday.

Both Bilbo and Collins will wind up their campaigns far from home. The former will conclude a series of four speeches Monday with an address here after speeches at Morton, Pickens and a point yet to be selected in Scott county.

A statement from Bilbo headquarters said several strong supporters from over the state will report at the rally here and indicated the "stormy petrel" of Mississippi politics may furnish some political fireworks. The statement said Bilbo will "take time enough from his regular speech to pay his respects to certain enemies who have been circulating alleged false reports about his platform.

Congressman Collins will wind up his campaign farther away from home than his opponents—at Biloxi, where he speaks Monday night. Other engagements Monday will take him to Quitman, Waynesboro, Leakesville and Lucedale.

NEWELLTON NEGRO
NARROWLY ESCAPES
FROM JACKSON MOB
JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 25.—(AP)—A 30-year-old Louisiana negro who police charge attempted to assault an aged negro woman, narrowly escaped violence at the hands of an armed mob of negroes on the outskirts of Jackson tonight.

The negro, Willie Gellon, who said he was from Newellton, La., was rescued by Deputy Sheriff Ab Derrick and lodged in the county jail.

Deputy Derrick said the negroes, whom he estimated to number approximately 100, surrendered their prisoner peacefully, but admitted they had intended to do him bodily harm.

The officer said he found the negroes of the community where the alleged intended assault victim lived, highly incensed over the matter and had taken up a sweeping hunt for Gellon this afternoon as soon as word spread of the affair.

Derrick said many of the negroes were armed with shotguns, improvised cut-throats and other weapons.

The mob, however, had not harmed the negro when Derrick arrived.

The officer said a charge of attempted criminal assault would be preferred against Gellon, who has been in this section only a short time.

A proposed canal linking the Wash with the Severn and Thames rivers will make the third canal to cross Great Britain. Two others have been in use for years, the Caledonian and the Forth and Clyde.

Jonesboro

Among the beautifully planned affairs being given for visiting girls was an "open house tea" given in the home of Miss Evelyn Corbett, with Miss Monah Colvin as co-hostess, honoring their house guests, Miss Wilda Phillips of Shreveport and the Misses Hilda and Hazel Craft of Hattiesburg, Miss., and Miss Elizabeth Sledge, of Castor, La. A colorful profusion of flowers added a decoration note to the reception suite where they assembled. The affair, characterized by pleasant informality was one of the pretty events of the season.

The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Corbett in presenting the guests to their friends. Mrs. Tison Craft, daughter of Mrs. Corbett, assisted in extending courtesies to the guests by presiding at the punch bowl.

Enjoying the occasion were: Miss Pauline May, Miss Mildred Nettles, Miss Marie Mathews of El Dorado, Mrs. Everett Mobley, Mrs. E. W. Stewart, Mrs. Louie Boss, Mrs. D. E. Henry, Miss Lena Mae Ross, Miss Inell Jones, Miss Beatrice Smith of Little Rock, Miss Floy Blalock, Miss Betsy Harrison, Miss Katherine Cox of Shreveport, and Miss Frankie Watts.

Prominent among the affairs given for the entertainment of visiting girls was that given by Misses Monah Colvin and Evelyn Corbett, honoring Miss Elizabeth Sledge of Castor, La., and Miss Wilda Phillips of Shreveport.

The lovely formal summer frocks worn by the hostesses and their guests, were silhouetted against the silvery moonlight that transformed the garden into a place of infinite beauty. Bridge tables were placed for those who desired to entertain themselves with bridge. The refreshing color scheme of green and white was effectively carried out by baskets of white clematis and fern, green shaded lights and refreshments.

A flower wreathed refreshment table where punch was served, accompanied by delectable open-faced sandwiches and individual cakes embellished with white icing and topped with shreds of green coconut, attracted the guests during the evening. Misses Pauline May and Frankie Watts, gowned in yellow and pink of summer substance, assisted in the evening courtesies.

Enjoying the lovely affair were Misses Mildred Nettles, Edith Cox, Betsy Harrison, Floy Blalock, Pauline May, Frankie Watts, Beatrice Smith of Little Rock, "Katz" Cox, of Shreveport, Inell Jones, and Jane Minchew. Messrs. Merrell Cox, Doc Johnson, Johnnie Guess, Billy Watts, B. Robinson, Sam Tardo, Jack Wyatt, Chas. Suttle, Alton Martin, Joe Key, and Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Henry.

Little Jimmie Shows, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shows, entertained a group of his young friends at a weiner roast on the lawn of his home on Monday night, August 20. Many amusing games and other courtesies were planned for the youngsters by the young host. The following were present, Helen, Dorothy and Harold Allen, Edith and Edna Callaway, Dwayne Tolbert, August Alexandria, and Buster Scroggins.

The local Methodist church was host to the aged people who are more or less "shut-ins" last Sunday afternoon. A well arranged program consisting of songs most appropriate for the occasion, and addresses, and awarding of flowers to oldest mem-

Germany's Religious Quarrel Intensified

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Well-authenticated reports that rebellious Evangelical church pastors are being arrested by secret police and subjected to an "inquisition" tonight intensified Germany's increasingly bitter church controversy.

Pastors known to be opposed to Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller's leadership of the official German Protestant church were asked three questions, the reports said. These were:

1. What is your attitude toward Reichsbishop Mueller?

2. What is your attitude regarding the Nazi government?

3. How do you regard Aryanism?

Their answers were said to have been almost unanimously defiant—that Mueller was not trustworthy, that his dictatorial position was not constitutional and that his "national synod" was illegal.

Dead Doctor Heals Stomach Ailments
A weird story is told of a well-known specialist reaching from the grave to cure stomach suffering. Years ago this doctor created a prescription for stomach ulcers, acid stomach, gas pains, heartburn, indigestion, bloating, belching, and other symptoms when caused by excess acid. Then the good doctor died. But his name brought fame after death as one user told another of his wonderful prescription. In the past six years, 54,169 grateful persons have written letters telling of their recoveries. This prescription is now known to hundreds of thousands as the Uda Treatment. All stomach sufferers may have a free sample by writing to Uda, Suite 60, Food-Science Bldg., St. Paul, Minn. The seven-day trial box of Uda Tablets is sold under a money-back guarantee of satisfaction by SANDMAN'S PHARMACY 227 DeSiard Phone 100

LABOR DAY TO BE CELEBRATED

Preparations Are Made Here For Barbecue On September 3

Preparations are being made by the Monroe Central Trades and Labor council to care for an expected attendance of several thousand persons at the Labor day barbecue and program September 3 at the Bernstein place on Bayou DeSiard, it was announced yesterday.

The day's festivities will be inaugurated at 8 a. m. with an automobile parade through downtown streets. The parade, which will be participated in by members of the various local crafts, will form at the western side of the parish courthouse, and after passing through the business section, will go to Bernstein place.

Preceding the barbecue dinner, which will be held from 11 a. m. until 1 p. m., a number of entertainment features will be staged, including fat men's, fat women's and "coca-cola" races, needle race, selection of the "ugliest" man and a floor show under the direction of C. O. Prestidge of the local carmen's union. Music will be furnished by the "New Deal" band. Prizes, donated by cooperating Monroe and West Monroe merchants, will be given to the winners of the various competitive events.

During the afternoon talks will be delivered by congressional candidates and other prominent citizens.

The barbecue is to be free to the public and officials of the labor council said sufficient food will be on hand for as many persons as care to attend.

Invitations to participate in the day's program have been extended by the council to craftsmen and others of many towns in northeast Louisiana.

GETS HIGH DEGREE

Among those receiving degrees at George Peabody college for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn., Saturday was Charles E. Kenney (above), principal of the Monroe Neville high school, who was awarded the degree of doctor of philosophy. The degrees were presented following a brilliant baccalaureate address by the Right Reverend H. J. Mikell, bishop of Atlanta. Dr. Kenney left Monroe in June, following the close of Neville high school, to complete his work for the degree. He is expected to return to the city about September 1, to begin preparations for the reopening of the high school for the fall term Sept. 17.

GROTTO MEMBERS TO ATTEND MEET

Monroe Organization To Be Strongly Represented At Shreveport

Teflis Grotto of Monroe will be strongly represented at the fourth annual Southwestern Grotto association convention, which will convene in Shreveport September 2 for a two-day session, Henry Ray, Jr., monarch, said yesterday.

A varied and complete entertainment program has been arranged for the 2,000 delegates and their ladies who are expected to attend the convention, he said. Headquarters for the Monroe delegation will be at the Washington-Youree hotel.

One of the entertainment features at the sessions will be a clown band composed of 15 members of the local grotto's musical organization.

Dr. B. M. McKoin, local physician, is second vice-president of the Southwestern Grotto association. The convention program has been announced as follows:

Sunday, Sept. 2—1:30 p. m., tour of Barksdale field; 2:30 p. m., rodeo show at the Louisiana State fair grounds; 5 p. m., tour of Barksdale field, with stunt flying and aerial circus; 8 p. m., church services.

Monday—12:01 a. m., German carnival and dance at the Municipal Memorial auditorium for prophets and their ladies; 6 a. m., swimming party, Rose Hill lake; 10 a. m., parade, the prophets in uniform participating in the event with labor and other organizations; 11 a. m., Southwestern Grotto meeting at the municipal auditorium, with officers to be elected for the ensuing year and the next convention city to be named; 12:30 p. m., buffet luncheon in the basement of the auditorium; 2 p. m., ladies' entertainment, including a tour of the city and a bridge affair; and 8 p. m., rodeo show at the state fair grounds.

Agricultural Field Day Is Slated At St. Joseph

FERRIDAY, La., Aug. 25.—(Special)—Friday, August 31, will be agricultural field day at the St. Joseph Experimental station, C. B. Haddon, station superintendent, announced today.

Farmers from throughout this area are expected to attend the experiments and make a study of the work at St. Joseph and at the Calhoun station saw an attendance of over 1,500 and this record is expected to be exceeded, Mr. Haddon said.

Tests will be carried on cotton planting, dates of planting, kinds of fertilizer, sources of nitrogen, cotton following winter crops, variety tests with corn, proper spacing, growing of alfalfa, sugar cane for syrup, sweet potatoes, peaches, grapes, apples and pears. Results already obtained at the stations show that the delta and pine land cotton is among the varieties recommended for the hill land and the Delfos is leading for the delta sections.

Workmen To Remodel Jena School Building

JENA, La., Aug. 25.—(Special)—Under the direction of H. A. Dunner, local plumber, workmen are expected to start Monday remodeling the Jena high school building. The project will cost around $5,593.97, the majority of which is material to be purchased from a special five-mill improvement tax voted in November of last year for a period of two years.

FERA labor to the extent of 60 men per day will be used in double shifts in an effort to complete the work before school starts on September 17.

CHINESE PIRATES BECOME SOLDIERS

Brigands Who Looted
British Ship Are Accepted As Troops

SHANGHAI, Aug. 25.—(AP)—The pirates are soldiers now.

Thus has fate dealt with the 60 Chinese marauders who were promised a firing squad for creating an international incident two months ago. The pirates boldly commandeered the British steamer Shuntien and kidnapped six English subjects and 18 Chinese.

The pirates were frightened into freeing their captives and lost most of the loot they unloaded from the steamer. But the "pay-off" is that they have been taken into the Shantung provincial army.

"They were sincere in their desire to surrender and become soldiers," explained Han Fu-Chu, governor of the province, who consented to make the pirates part of his army.

It was Han who ordered a "sweeping search" for the kidnapers when both Great Britain and the United States became aroused. In June he promised that he would line the offenders against a wall before a firing squad.

American and British naval vessels joined a hunt for the pirates who took over the Shuntien, en route from Tientsin to Shanghai. By a well-laid plan, which involved their members sailing as passengers, they held the vessel all one night and looted it.

Junks, manned by confederates, took them off and they fled to swamps in the delta of the Yellow river. Airplanes sent out by the British roared over the retreat and the frightened bandits released the prisoners without payment of ransom.

ONE MAY BE RAINEY'S SUCCESSOR

Washington political observers, wondering who would be most likely to achieve the leadership of the next house, since the death of Henry T. Rainey leaves vacant the speaker's chair—considered by many the second most important post in the government—named these four men among leading possibilities. Top left is John McDuffie of Alabama, conservative who had been the whip of the house under Speaker John Garner, and right, William B. Bankhead, also of Alabama. Lower right is Joseph T. Byrns of Tennessee, co-leader with Rainey in the 73rd congress and a certain candidate, and lower left is Sam Rayburn, Texas representative. (Associated Press Photos)

Lake Providence

To compliment her daughter, Mrs. George T. Hider, whose recent marriage was one of the most outstanding events of interest in this section Mrs. W. B. Benjamin entertained at the family home on Tuesday afternoon from 5 to 7. Mrs. Hider, who before her marriage, was Miss Virginia Benjamin a true daughter of the south of yesterday and noted for her blonde beauty, graciousness, and charm, was gowned in a floor length red dotted white swiss, trimmed with red silk ric rac braid on the ruffles of the elbow length sleeves, top of bodies and three ruffles on the lower part of the skirt. At the waist line was a wide, red velvet sash tied in a full bow at the back and falling to the ruffles. A large white straw hat with narrow red velvet band and popple buds completed her attire. She carried a shower bouquet of Clematis and Asparagus fern tied with white tulle. Misses Dorothy Kennedy, Mary Mamley and Catherine Voelker in blue organdy and pink sashes served the delightful and exquisite ice cream in the shape of wedding bells, lilies, and slippers with individual white cakes embossed in pink roses and green leaves. Just before the serving Mrs. H. T. Van Fossen read "God Touched The Rose." The most unique feature of the afternoon was the reading of a poem, composed by the hostess, depicting the birth, girlhood, romance, marriage and honeymoon of her daughter, after which the tea table bearing a most realistic steamer "S. S. Dixie" made from half of a watermelon, with full sail, and bride and bridegroom on deck was rolled in before the guests by Miss Helen Gilfoil and Miss Emilie Keene. The red of the melon had been cut from the rind and in the space favors of wedding bells, luck charms, thimble, dime and ring had been encased, and tied to white streamers which were tied to the edge of the tea wagon. Each guest was invited to pull a ribbon and learn their fortune, all getting a favor but the ring was won by Catherine Voelker and the dime by Mrs. Van Fossen. In bidding the guests adieu the unmarried set gathered to catch the bride's bouquet which was caught by Catherine Voelker. Among the guests were Mesdames Thomas Montgomery, R. S. Guenard, J. M. Hamley, Sam O'Sullivan, B. R. Pinkston, W. R. Powell, J. R. Adams, Frank Voelker, N. K. DeLong, McFarland Long, T. G. Wood, F. D. Bull, J. S. Millikin, Isabel Keene, Frank Byerley, W. C. Lyon, J. M. Keene, Ida May Cobb, Ethel Montgomery, Narcisse Brown, Sara Cobb, Minnie B. Erwin.

Mrs. W. Y. Bell was a bridge club hostess of Wednesday afternoon, and entertained at the home of her mother, Mrs. Chas. Hart in South Davis street. The members and additional guests enjoying the games were Mesdames J. H. Guenard, H. L. Harkey, C. R. Evans, E. D. Schneider, C. A. Rose, E. S. Voelker, R. S. Guenard, Herman Schwartz, Vail Delony, J. L. Fike, J. E. Brown, 2nd, and R. A. Rentz.

Mrs. R. S. Guenard was the winner of the first prize and Mrs. Evans the second. A most delightful salad course was served after the games.

Mrs. W. K. Evans entertained at bridge Wednesday afternoon for the pleasure of her club members, and entertaining at her home in Brown street had as guests Mesdames J. C. Gross, J. N. Turner, Chas. Hart, J. C. Bass, F. P. Regenold, F. H. Schneider, J. M. Hamley and Miss Marie Louise Gross. The high and low score prizes were won by Mrs. Hamley and Mrs. Turner.

Mrs. Isabel Montgomery Keene with her son Joe of Shreveport are here for the week with Mrs. Keene's mother, Mrs. T. F. Montgomery.

Mrs. Eugene Whittington, in entertaining at bridge Thursday afternoon at her home on the lake, had a most enjoyable gathering of guests, including Mesdames C. M. Bass, C. B. Mitchell, A. G. Frost, Leon Harbin, Hugh King, W. G. Bailey, C. E. Greer, S. L. House, A. P. Surles, J. R. Hobson, Roy Abernathy, F. G. Meek, L. W. Myers, Sterling Merrill, Harry Packard, E. W. Scout Round Table Meet Is Slated Here Monday

A round table conference of scoutmasters of the central district of the Ouachita Valley Boy Scout council will be held Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at St. Matthew's Parochial school auditorium, G. W. Simpson, council executive, announced yesterday.

Features of the session will be a discussion of the program of scout activities for this fall and formulation of plans for the district court of honor to be held in September.

WOMAN'S SHOP IS AIR CONDITIONED

Field's Announces Complete Cooling System As Step Forward

Field's Woman's shop, 319 DeSiard street, is the first business establishment of Monroe to become completely air conditioned throughout the entire establishment, according to announcement made Saturday by A. Blumenthal, the manager, who stated that a Frigidaire equipment has been installed to create a uniform temperature of 70 degrees inside every department of the store, irrespective of the weather outside.

The engineering and installation were done by the Standard Office Supply company, which recently completed similar equipment for the business offices of the Brown Paper mill and the Frigidaire salesroom of the S. O. S.

"With our Frigidaire equipment," said Mr. Blumenthal, "our patrons are permitted to shop in the utmost comfort, even when they are engaged in trying on furs or other cold weather apparel. Field's Woman's Shop becomes literally the coolest spot in town."

Mr. Blumenthal is highly enthusiastic about the innovation and hailed it as "the greatest advance yet achieved in overcoming the vagaries of weather in the interest of the public." The equipment is designed to keep the interior of the store at an equable temperature all the year round.

A. K. Kilpatrick, manager of the Standard Office Supply company, was equally enthusiastic.

"Climate undoubtedly has determined where the cities and centers of our highest culture and civilization have been located," he said, "so it is not beyond the realms of comprehension to wonder if the development of air conditioning may not cause a re-designing of the economic map of the world. Ever since the dawn of history man has sought to control the weather. He has succeeded so far as the indoors are concerned and now it is possible to have weather indoors as when and how one wants it. The same thing that has been done for the Field's Woman's Shop or the Brown Paper mill offices can be applied to any establishment, any private home or any one room or group of rooms in the home or in the business house. Air conditioning is one of the most important accomplishments of modern times and is bound to bring about great changes in our economic, social and business life."

Bastrop

Miss Beryl Madison was a charming hostess when she entertained at bridge at the home of her mother, Mrs. H. F. Madison, Wednesday afternoon. Summer flowers adorned the reception suite where the tables were placed. At the conclusion of the games, Mrs. Hugo Spier was presented with two white linen handkerchiefs for being holder of the high score. Miss Mabel Smith received a deck of cards for the second high score, and Mrs. Walter Vignes of Elizabeth, La., was awarded two red linen sport handkerchiefs for the cut prize.

A delicious salad course was served to the players and to several tea guests who called. Those sharing Miss Madison's hospitality on this occasion were Mesdames W. B. Gladney, J. B. Tisdale, Leo Terzia, Hugh Spier, W. V. Garnier, Ed Trippe, Archie Bain McBride, W. A. Rodgers, Ronald Bouchaud of New Roads, Walter Vignes of Elizabeth, David Bell of Hodge, David Garrett of Monroe, Misses Nonie Bain, Edith Hobbs, Mabel Smith, Virginia Robinson, Winnie McGehee and Dorothy Folse of Oak Ridge.

A marriage of great interest to a wide circle of relatives and friends was that of Miss Elizabeth Cavett Brodnax and Mr. John Frederick Carpenter, Jr., son of Sheriff and Mrs. J. F. Carpenter, which was solemnized last Friday at the home of Judge and Mrs. J. W. Kimbrough in Monticello, Ark.

The attendants were Miss Louise Carpenter, sister of the groom and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McBride who accompanied the couple to Monticello. Reverend Edwards, the Presbyterian minister read the service. After the ceremony the young couple left for the Ozark mountains for a brief wedding trip.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Volk was the scene of a joyous occasion Tuesday when their little daughter, Lorna, entertained a host of her young friends on her seventh birthday. After a number of interesting games were enjoyed by the children, the little hostess cut the attractive birthday cake. Ice cream and cake were served to Martha Ann Ludlum, Susie Jo Ludlum, Zoe Ann Poimbeuf, Sue Madison, Mary Miss Madison, Lou Rachael Kern, Sallie Anne Patterson, Barbara Todd of Tallulah, Carolyn Rodgers, Robert Todd, Gene Poimbeuf, Paul Pomeroy, Lillie Volk, Beth Thompson, Frank Harrison, Leo Kern, Junior Young, Martin Rodgers, Billy Douglass, Billy Gladney and Wallie Gladney.

Mrs. H. E. Alexander has returned to her home after a pleasant visit with friends and relatives in Monticello, Ark.

Dr. and Mrs. W. V. Garnier left

Wednesday for an extended tour which will include Chicago, Detroit, southern Canada and points of interest on the eastern coast.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. McMeans and son, Arthur, left Tuesday by motor for Colorado Springs where they will spend a couple of weeks.

Mrs. S. E. Cathy and young daughter left Monday for Chicago where they will enjoy the world's fair.

Mrs. A. D. Buford and son, Mr. Duncan Buford, returned this week from Water Valley, Miss., where they spent several days with relatives.

Mr. A. C. McMeans returned Sunday from a two week's visit in Denver and Colorado Springs. He was accompanied home by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McMeans, who had been spending several weeks in Manitou, Colorado.

Mrs. Estelle B. Harris and Miss

Lucie Jane Harris left the early part of the week for Chicago to enjoy a two week's visit in the city, attending the world's fair.

Mrs. W. C. Bozeman of Oak Ridge and her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Stewart with her children of El Dorado, Kan., were guests in the home of Mrs. W. T. Eldridge the earlier part of the week.

threatened with impending bankruptcy.

He charged that state taxing agencies were hampering the city in tax collections, but added:

"We are operating the city of New Orleans within our budget and our loans from the banks are well within our fiscal agency contract with the banks. x x x The trouble with Senator Long is that he doesn't think that anybody in the United States, not even President Roosevelt, can do anything right unless they have first secured Mr. Long's approval."

In a side-skirmish between the factions, Walmsley's Old Regulars secured a court order for inspection of primary registration books in adjoining Jefferson parish, which usually returns Long majorities. Similar action was planned in other parishes which are included in the New Orleans congressional districts.

The federal grand jury which has been investigating income tax returns of Long machine leaders is scheduled to resume its sessions Monday, when members of the state highway commission and commission records covering the Huey Long gubernatorial term have been subpoenaed before the inquisitors.

LAST RITES HELD FOR H. P. PURNELL

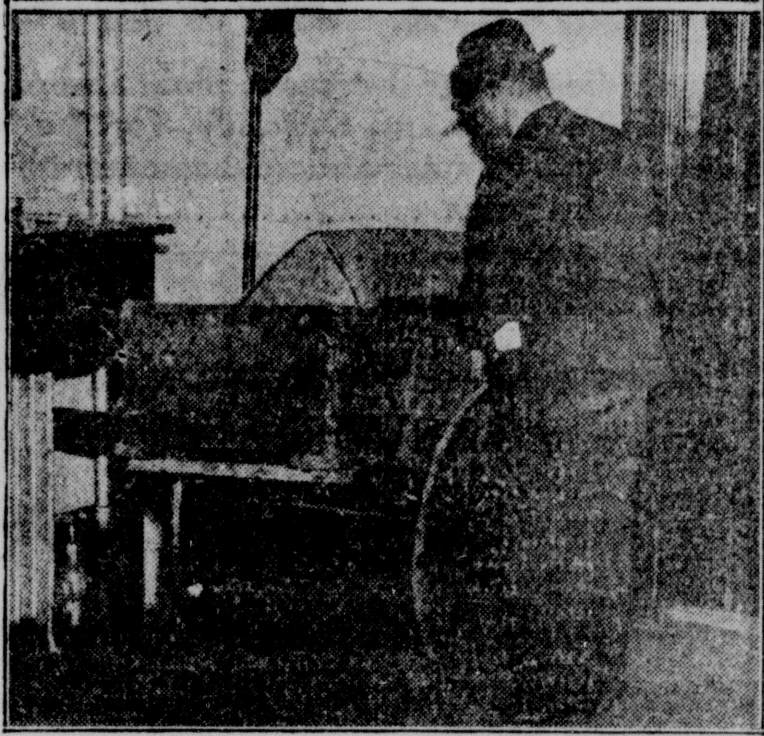

TALLULAH, La., Aug. 25.—(Special)—Funeral services for Henry P. Purnell, 61, who died suddenly at his store at Afton Friday afternoon of a heart attack, were held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Richard Almond here yesterday with Rev. C. Karlos Smith, of the Tallulah Methodist church officiating.

Mr. Purnell, who was a native of Chotard, Miss., had resided in Madison parish for many years. He was engaged in the planting and mercantile business and was a member of the Madison parish school board.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Almond and Mrs. E. B. Frierson, of Tallulah and Miss Lily Purnell, of New Orleans and two brothers, Dr. Millard R. Purnell, of Shreveport, and E. T. Purnell, of Tallulah.

The active pallbearers were A. J. Sevier, F. E. Helton, S. B. Bettis, Horace Collins, K. E. McLeod, W. M. Mc-

RIOTING CONVICTS CORRALED AFTER WRECKING PRISON

The truck was loaded with 40 men, the trouble started inside the kitchen and thousands of dollars worth of damage was done.

"The rioting spread to C, D and E cell blocks, and more damage was done in those blocks.

"In the industrial plant, operated by the welfare department, was thousands of dollars worth of new machinery that had never turned a wheel. That has been wrecked.

"Then a barn inside the wall, known as No. 11, was set on fire.

"About noon 200 of the prisoners, armed with clubs and bars of iron and tools, who apparently are responsible for the riot, after doing all the destruction they could in the cell blocks, got on a hill and defied the guards to come and get them.

"At this point, Captain Leitheiser (deputy warden in charge) called on Major Adams of the state police for reinforcements. Forty state policemen arrived in ten cars and more are being held in reserve nearby.

"The rioters on the hill were cowed by machine guns and rifles in the hands of the state police, searched for weapons and then were locked up in cells for such desperate characters."

be made. Once these facts are in my hands they will receive immediate attention in order to make impossible the things you say will be done, because I am just as much opposed to them as you are."

Schall's reply was issued a few hours later.

Schall referred to what he termed "the press censorship bill" passed by the house and killed in the senate during the special session last year. He said that under it a publisher not approved by the administration could have been sentenced to ten years' imprisonment, and that Chairman Sumners, Democrat, Texas, of the house judiciary committee had stated the bill was introduced at the request of the "executive."

Charging "every government department under you is now cloaked in censorship," Schall added that while "a press censorship clause" was stricken from the communications control bill, the measure "still gives you power to inaugurate a government telegraphic news service, under which, as one example, you immediately put out of business three radio stations of Mr. (Henry) Ford."

While the senator was drafting his letter, Hampton Gary, acting chairman of the communications commission, likewise denied, in a radio address, that the government intended to set up its own press service.

Advertised For Rain And Got It Pronto!

VINITA, Okla.—(P)—When crops around Vinita began burning up from the prolonged drought, Hugh McClure, Vinita business man, decided it was high time to do something about it.

He ran an advertisement in a newspaper, asking for rain.

Five hours later dark clouds shut out the scorching sun and half an inch of rain fell on the parched region.

dence that when all the votes were in, victory would be his by a wide margin. He looked to try many thousand voters in smaller towns and cities and rural areas.

It appeared that the race for attorney general, second in interest to that for governor, would find William McCraw, Dallas attorney, and state Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman coming down the stretch close together.

Lon A. Smith, chairman of the state railroad commission, was putting up a strong fight to remain in office. He was opposed by John Pundit, Dallas oil man.

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 25.—(P)—Texas election bureau returns from 207 of the state's 254 counties, 71 complete, with about two-thirds of the vote counted, gave:

For governor: James V. Allred, 344,975; Tom F. Hunter, 317,150.

For lieutenant governor: Joe Moore, 239,220; Walter Woodul, 332,060.

For attorney general: William McCraw 324,142; Walter Woodward 269,226.

For railroad commission: John Pundit, 240,784; Lon A. Smith, 319,504.

For supreme court justice: Hal S. Lattimore 272,268; John M. Sharp 282,431.

FOUR MEN ARE HELD IN ROBBERY OF BANK

MARIANNA, Fla., Aug. 25.—(P)—Sheriff W. F. Chambliss of Jackson county today announced the arrest of one man here and three in Chicago on robbery charges in connection with the holdup early this week of the bank of Malone.

Willie Reese, a negro, who the sheriff said admitted driving the bandit car, is held here. Chambliss said M. F. Dudley, Buford Mears and Harrison McKinney, all white, had been apprehended in Chicago on information furnished by his officers.

State's Attorney John H. Carter said Reese declared he was employed by Dudley and ordered by him to drive Mears and McKinney to Malone for the robbery. McKinney, the negro was quoted as saying, remained near the door of the bank while Mears scooped up loose cash and currency as bank employees were covered with pistols.

All of the men live in this county. Reese was arrested yesterday, but officers withheld announcement until Chicago police confirmed the arrest of the three men held there.

Chambliss said the three would be returned here. Dispatches from Chicago indicated they would waive extradition.

They All Break Law In Missouri Town

BUTLER, Mo., Aug. 25.—(P)—Every motorist in Butler is a law-breaker—whether he knows it or not.

Under an ordinance passed in 1906, motor vehicles of any kind are prohibited from operating on the public square. The law was enacted after many citizens had been injured in runaways when horses became frightened at "gasoline buggies" chugging around the downtown section.

The law, subjecting the violator to a fine of $1 to $100, still stands, although it has not been enforced for years.

WE CONGRATULATE FIELD'S WOMAN'S SHOP!

Monroe's First Merchant To Install Complete Air Conditioned

FRIGIDAIRE COOLING SYSTEM

HERE is a Monroe business house that is entitled to the felicitations of the public for its commendable sagacity, progressive spirit and the consideration it displays on behalf of a discriminating clientele. Field's is the first complete air conditioned woman's shop in Monroe!

Mr. Blumenthal, the manager, came to us with this proposition: "We want our store, our fitting rooms, our whole establishment to be the most comfortable place in Monroe during the hot summer. We want our patrons who are anxious to make early fall and winter purchases—to try on furs and cold weather garments—to feel they can come into Field's with an assurance of comfort, no matter what may be the temperature outside. Can you do it?"

We said we could—and we did!

Field's Shop today is the first business house in Monroe to adopt air conditioning throughout the entire establishment. When the thermometer outside rages and the sun shines down in blistering fury—inside Field's the air is kept at a uniform temperature of 70 degrees, the most delightfully cool and refreshing spot in the business section of the city.

With this innovation Field's has shown a concern for the interests of the buying public—particularly the feminine buying public—that is worthy of the highest appreciation.

Just step into Field's and learn what a comfort summertime shopping for winter wearables can be—and all because of the application of this marvelous, modern method of air conditioning.

"When It's 100° In The Sunshine--It's 70° In Field's"

When you install air conditioning equipment you want to be certain that it will actually condition the air. And you want positive assurance that it is engineered to function smoothly and economically over a long period of years.

It is unnecessary for us to speak about Frigidaire Air Conditioning Equipment from the standpoint of performance. Simply ride on a Frigidaire Air Conditioned Train, walk into a Frigidaire Air Conditioned Theater or dine in a Frigidaire Air Conditioned Restaurant—the cool, bracing atmosphere and utter absence of excess humidity will tell you everything you need to know.

And Frigidaire Air Conditioning Equipment can be bought with the utmost confidence in its future performance. For back of it is Frigidaire's wide experience in solving all kinds of refrigerating problems—the knowledge gained in making more commercial refrigeration installations than any other manufacturer. And back of it, too, are the unlimited facilities of General Motors Research Laboratories—the dependability assured by the term "Product of General Motors."

Frigidaire Air Conditioning Equipment is now available in models and sizes to meet all requirements in homes, offices, stores, theaters and railroad trains. We will welcome an opportunity to give you complete information and to show you how easily you, too, can "turn on the cold" in summer.

MR. MERCHANT! Stop Talking About The Heat, Turn On The Cold.
The Frigidaire System Is Both Economical And Practical. Think Of What Comfort It Gives Your Customers And Organization. Only A Few Hours Required To Install.

HOME OF MAYOR BOMBED AS UNION WORKERS STRIKE

"I'll kill any man who comes in and don't belong here," he said.

Authorities obviously were apprehensive as night came on, fearing further violence between union agricultural workers—weeders and harvesters—and non-union men who have replaced them in the muckling during the three months old strike.

Sheriff Wilbur Mitchell reported to Adjutant General Frank D. Penderon at Columbus that the situation is under control. But he called out his 50 deputies for patrol duty. A national guard observer also was on hand.

Odell, the president of the agricultural workers union, an A. F. of L. affiliate, had been taken from deputies sheriff, clubbed, spirited from town and threatened. Then he was released.

For a while last night and early today truck loads of men—apparently non-union workers or their friends took control of the village—the center of a huge union producing area.

The irate group was spurred to action by the bombing of Mayor Godfrey J. Ott's home. Mrs. Ott said, "It's about time something was done."

The crowd earlier today stormed the jail, captured Odell and rushed him to a truck. The president of the Agriculture Workers union, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor, later said "it was all cut and planned."

Odell said a deputy who was one of his relatives accosted the truck driver.

"Is Okey Odell on the truck?" Odell quoted Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Norman as asking.

"No," the reply.

"I shouted, 'The h--l I ain't,' but Norman left."

The return of Odell, the detailing of Lieut. Col. John Volka to the scene by Adj. Gen. Frank D. Henderson, brought quiet.

BEACH CLUB GIRL

CHAPTER XIX

The girl facing Russ was blond, honey blond, and her brows were sketched in lightly with a black pencil. They formed half moons, inverted, over light-blue eyes rimmed with mascara. She had on a pink house dress, not too clean, two or three buttons missing. Her white shoes were well worn and the laces knotted carelessly where they had been broken. The room in which she sat was the kitchen of a flat in a group of flats, an unbroken sketch of sameness in a dreary block. Stove, sink, refrigerator were present in all their modern compactness, but in spite of the shallow molding of imitation tile, in spite of the gingham curtains at the windows, the room had a sleazy, down at the heels air.

"What's she like," the girl asked.

"She's cute," Russ said cautiously. He fumbled in his pocket for a cigarette and, finding one, lit it. "She's class," he further added. "They have—the old man has a big house up in Larchneck."

"Rich, huh?" the blond girl asked interestedly, tracing a pattern with her forefinger in the crumbs scattered on the enamel table top.

He shrugged. "Maybe. Anyhow, they've got something."

"Well, I'll give you a piece of my mind," the blond girl said dispassionately, rising and languidly turning on the hot water faucet. "I think you're plain nuts. Marrying her?"

"Aw, can that!" The scowl gathered, darkened, on his face. "Wait till somebody asks you for advice."

"It's none o' my business, of course," pursued the girl, quite as if he had not spoken. "It's your funeral. . . . I'll wash those after a while, Lou," she said in an aside to a thin, big-eyed young man who now sauntered in. She stacked the dishes, three or four greasy plates, several cups and saucers chipped and cracked in various places. Further than that, by way of tidying up, she opened the oven door, thrust a stewpan with gravy and remnants of something that looked like stew clinging to its aluminum interior within. She ran a gray dishcloth casually over the surface of the corrugated drainboard and, reaching up, switched out the light.

"Those'll keep," she said impersonally to the two men. They followed her into the adjoining room where the conversation presently resumed.

"Can you come with us tomorrow? That's what I want to know," Russ demanded, stretching his length out in a deep overstuffed chair with sagging springs.

His brother's wife shrugged shapelessly. "Oh, I guess maybe," she told him vaguely. "I was going to take a run over to Brooklyn to see the folks, but that can wait. But what are you going to do with her—where are you going to go afterward? Back to the old folks?"

Russ grinned. "Might not be a bad idea, at that."

Lou, taking no part in the discussion, switched on the light in a curious looking lamp which had obviously been picked up in one of those gaudy booths which offer prizes for shooting down a certain number of wooden moving ducks on a trolley. The base of it was fashioned of imitation copper and represented a geisha girl, curiously attired in a pair of scanties and a beaded brassiere. The shade was deeply, violently pink. Under this extraordinary lamp Lou unfolded the evening paper and began absently to read.

The room, high-lighted by the geisha girl's bulb and by various side fixtures on the distempered walls, was revealed as a living apartment some nine of ten feet square. Two mean rectangles of windows looked out on the street, guiltless of trees. The only articles of furniture in the room were a day bed, covered with a scalloped and tasseled cover of dark green corduroy, the two chairs the men occupied, and a gateleg table with two imitation cardsticks upon it. There were no books. There were several pictures in cheap gilt frames of toothy film stars in various incendiary attitudes. Lou's wife, who had been christened Sophie and who now answered to the name of Gloria, was always promising herself "to put up some drapes," but somehow she "just never got around to it." Small wonder that the room presented, therefore, an uncompromisingly bare appearance.

Russ found no fault with it, however. Tilted back in his chair, his large boots very much in evidence, he looked around him complacently and reflected that this flat of Lou's was a nice little dump and a bargain at $35. Of course, it was all right for Lou to settle down this way. He drove a truck for a bakery company, delivering from door to door, and made, Russ admitted naively, "good money." Gloria wasn't a bad sort, although she had a nagging tongue and was always wanting to know what he did with his salary. He, in turn, reflected that his own life, he'd travel some more, see the world first, then settle down in Larchneck with a real gentleman's job. The kid would see to it he knew the right people. After that everything would be easy.

He emitted a yawn that was almost like a splitting scream in its depth and vigor and Lou looked up inquisitively, frowning over his head-lines.

"You wanta hit the hay?"

Russ flexed his muscles, standing. They rippled under his blue shirt sleeves and Gloria gave him a glance of grudging admiration. The big bum, she said to herself with good-humored contempt. I guess he's the ladies' delight, all right, all right. I guess he hates himself!

"I wouldn't mind."

Lou heaved himself up from his chair. "O. K. Come one, kid. I can read in the bedroom. Fix him up here."

Gloria opened her mouth to say something sarcastic and closed it again. It might be worth while to kid Lou's brother along if he was really marrying some society doll up in Westchester. Gloria rather fancied the idea of seeing the polo-playing, yachting crowd at first hand instead of peeking at their exploits as shown in the news reels. So she arose with an appearance of amiability and began to open the collapsed day bed. Gray and dingy sheets were revealed and a discouraged looking gray blanket.

The trio separated without formalities. Russ, left alone, flung off a few garments, allowed two shoes to hit the floor with vehemence, and presently the beams of the street lamp, stealing in, revealed a muscular young man, face down, sound asleep in Gloria's cherished living room.

Meantime Denis Fenway, riding home on the 10:30 train, shaking from his feet the dust of the city's hot pavements, was conscious of a deep sense of irritation and disappointment. Naturally, he told himself for the hundredth time, it was none of his business what Boots Raeburn did with herself. Why, he scarcely knew her; had only spoken to her, all told, for five or ten minutes. Yet there had been something so virginal, so untouched about her that it had been a shock to see her emerge from that obviously second-rate hotel on the arm of a big bruiser.

"I've seen that chap before," Denis told himself, annoyed at his inability to remember when or where. As the train clicked over the ties, eastward bound, the air grew cooler, became salty. Denis' fist crashed into his open palm.

"The life guard," he said aloud. An elderly lady in the seat ahead peered over her rimless glasses at him. The young man must have been drinking, she reflected. Yet he looked perfectly all right. . . nice-looking, too. Quite handsome. . . a pity. . . a pity!

Yes, he remembered now. Ah, but probably Boots had met the fellow by accident. There wasn't any real significance in their being together. For an instant a chill feeling of guilt swept Denis' conscience. Why hadn't he acknowledged the fact that he had seen her, at least by a bow? Why had he looked away, so quickly and coldly, pretending he did not recognize her? He admitted he had been a bit caustic in his reactions.

Oh, well, tomorrow he would call her up and let her know about this opening at the publishing house. It might lead to something. Or perhaps he would drop her a line, sit down at Lois' little guest room desk when he got home. He liked the idea of writing that girl a note. Something simple and friendly. He might even suggest their meeting in town for tea whenever she went in to see Masterston.

He got off the train at Larchneck in a fine glow and swung up the street away from the station, smiling to himself. Yes, he would do that. He would write her at once and stroll out to the post office with it. She'd have it first thing in the morning.

He could imagine what that girl looked like in the early hours. He didn't have to imagine it. He'd seen her no later than this morning. She was like some white and gold Undine, rising from the foam, he told himself poetically, liking the sound of the words.

Falling asleep, an hour or two later, he wondered how soon he would have an answer from her.

LOMBARDO BROS. AT PARAMOUNT

From an obscure start in their father's tailor shop in Toronto, Canada, to an enviable position as the world's most famous dance orchestra and top billing in Paramount's comedy romance "Many Happy Returns" the attraction at the Paramount theater for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is a long way to travel. But these four Lombardo brothers did it. Reading from top left they are: Carmen, Lebert, Victor and Guy, the chief instigator of all. Others in the cast of "Many Happy Returns" include George Burns, Gracie Allen, Joan Marsh, George Barbier, Franklin Pangborn and Ray Milland.

AT LOCAL THEATERS

AT THE PARAMOUNT—The generations of people both young and old who have been thrilled by "Treasure Island," Robert Louis Stevenson's famous story of pirate adventure, will find the vivid story-book experiences of their youth created on the screen in the picture that closes its engagement today at the Paramount theater, with Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper in co-starring roles.

Full power of the most widely read fiction book about pirates ever written has been retained in the adaptation by John Lee Mahin. Scenes have been reproduced exactly as described in the book with much of Stevenson's own dialogue between the characters followed to the word.

With Beery as Long John Silver and Jackie Cooper as Jim Hawkins, boy adventurer, a cast has been assembled to bring each rover of the Spanish Main to the screen with living reality. Lionel Barrymore's blustering Billy Bones is one of the most entertaining characters he has ever played; Otto Kruger is forceful as Dr. Livesey; Lewis Stone's personal knowledge of sailing ships gives convincing background to his role of Captain Smollett; Nigel Bruce is a ruddy and typically English Squire Trelawney; touches of quaint humor are put into the characterization of Ben Gunn, marooned pirate, by Chic Sale.

Some of the most beautiful marine photography ever seen on the Paramount screen provides a breathtaking background for action on board the Hispaniola, complete three-masted ship built for the production from the old Nanuk, famous whaling ship used in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Arctic expedition for "Eskimo."

Every minor role was evidently cast with extreme care as such well known character players as William V. Mong, Charles McNaughton, Douglas Dumbrille, Edmund Breese, Olin Howland, Charles Irwin, Edward Pawley, Richard Powell, James Burke and little Cora Sue Collins contribute notable performances.

Every pictorial beauty and action value in the story has been brought out by the direction of Victor Fleming, who has filmed such adventure stories as "Rendezvous" and "Around the World in 80 Minutes."

To combat a jackrabbit plague, commissioners of Collingsworth county, Texas, offered a 5-cent bounty on each pair of rabbit's ears for a 60-day period.

NEGRO USES FLATIRON With Effective Aim

A flatiron, hurled with unerring aim by Fred Zineman almost cost Lou Berry the loss of the tip of his nose here last night. Both are negroes.

Police said the two quarreled at Zineman's home. Berry left for his home for the avowed purpose of obtaining a pistol.

Returning to Zineman's home, Berry was greeted by the flatiron full on the nose.

A physician found it necessary to take several stitches to restore Berry's proboscis to a semblance of its former appearance.

Zineman is being held in the city jail on a charge of drawing and displaying a dangerous weapon.

NOTICE

ALL WATER CONSUMERS

ALL WATER METERS WILL BE READ BETWEEN SEPTEMBER 1ST AND 10TH FOR STARTING POINT

Beginning October 1st, water meters will be read and billed with light meters.

Water will be billed to consumer.

No deposits—no meter charge—no installation charge.

Contrary to general conception, bills mailed in July and August were not water connection charges but covered water consumed under the old flat rate figured monthly instead of quarterly.

The rates charged under the meter plan will be a minimum of $1.00 per month which entitles the consumer to 5000 gallons per month. All water used over 5000 gallons will be charged for at the rate of 10 cents per thousand gallons regardless of amount used.

We urge that each consumer examine all plumbing on his or her premises or tenant houses owned or controlled by him for leaks or faulty plumbing fixtures, and have same repaired immediately, so as to be assured of no charge for waste water. Your cooperation is requested.

Once upon a time there was a merchant (or maybe he was a manufacturer, or a doctor or dentist, or lawyer—have it your own way!) who made a great fortune without the aid of printing.

SOCIETY

Despite The Sultry Days Of August Society Continues In One Mad Whirl

By Nell Grigsby

The month of August is drawing to a close . . . and a hectic month it has been! Ordinarily, August with its excessive heat, its closed homes, its exodus of wandering vacationists and its scarcity of news is the nightmare of every social editor.

This August, however, has been a notable exception! With so many lovely brides, so many charming visiting girls and so many gracious hostesses, life in Monroe has been one continual series of teas, coffee hours, bridges, luncheons, not to mention the dances, the barbecues and swimming parties!

Only a few short weeks remain until school . . . boys and girls are beginning to wear a serious and studious mien . . . trunks are being dragged out of dark storage places . . . dusty penants are being resurrected . . . fall wardrobes are being renovated and fraternity constitutions and by-laws are being reviewed . . .

Vacationists are returning daily . . . telling us so many interesting things about the good times they've been having this summer . . .

Johnnie Smith Elbert and Effie Allen have returned from Chicago and Saginaw, Michigan. While in Saginaw they were guests in the Edward Shuster home . . . who, by the way is a prominent Michigan capitalist . . . and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kramer. A recent issue of the Saginaw Sunday News contains a full page picture of the Shuster home, one of the show places on Saginaw bay . . . and in the picture is a splendid likeness of Mrs. Elbert and Mrs. Allen.

They had such a wonderful time . . . fishing trips, dinner parties, steak suppers, swimming, . . . boating . . . and always cool . . .

They tell us how much they enjoyed the log fires . . . but why tax our imaginations . . . our poor fevered Louisiana imaginations, with tales of log fires . . . the temperature soaring way past the hundred mark! . . . we who stayed at home and didn't sit by log fires!!

Among the first of our young people leaving for college is Miss Miriam McGimsey. She will leave tonight for San Antonio, Texas, where she will remain three weeks, the guest of relatives, before going on to the University of Colorado where she will attend the winter session of school.

The Wilson Ewings are back in Monroe after a delightful vacation on the Gulf coast. They were accompanied home by Mrs.

S. J. Rogers. Wilson tells some real fish stories . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Moyse of Baton Rouge will arrive in Monroe today to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Arent, Dr. and Mrs. Hirsch and Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Selig.

Miss Jacqueline Moyse, who has a wide acquaintance in Monroe will be the guest of Miss Suzanne Hirsch during her visit . . . which means another series of lovely parties and dances . . .

Mrs. H. B. Newman, B. L. Martin and Tom Martin have returned from Chicago where they have had a most enjoyable trip enjoying the World's Fair, as well as other interesting sights in Chicago.

Miss Jean Tucker left Friday with a party of friends for Chicago where she will attend the Century of Progress exposition.

Miss Agnes Striber of Crossett, Arkansas, is the lovely guest of her aunt Mrs. J. S. Summersill this week.

T. M. Ross, Jr., son of Mrs. Stella Ross of West Monroe is a member of the crew of the S. S. Argonne just returned from Haiti

Mrs. Wasson Of Baton Rouge Is Feted Guest

Mrs. Dean Selig has had as her guests during the past week, her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wasson and two interesting children of Baton Rouge, where Mr. Wasson is connected with the agriculture department of L. S. U.

On Tuesday morning Mrs. Wasson, who has been the recipient of a number of delightful social courtesies during her visit in Monroe, was the guest of honor at a bridge luncheon given by Mrs. K. S. Elliott.

Tuesday evening Mrs. J. D. Hamilton entertained with a luncheon and on Wednesday morning Mrs. C. C. Colvert was hostess at a most enjoyable bridge luncheon.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Selig introduced Mrs. Wasson at a garden party at her home on North Third street and on Thursday morning Mrs. Garnett entertained informally with a coffee hour.

Mrs. Jonas Selig entertained Mrs. Wasson at luncheon Thursday noon and Mrs. Irving Wolff was the hostess at bridge Thursday afternoon.

On Friday Mrs. R. W. O'Donnell gave a delightful bridge affair honoring Mrs. Wasson and on Friday afternoon Mrs. William Harper was the hostess at a bridge for this lovely out-of-town visitor.

Odom-Burford Engagement Announced

Of interest to her many friends in Ruston and Monroe is the announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Nellie Odom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Odom of Ruston, to Mr. B. G. Burford of Monroe, which will be solemnized in the early part of September.

Miss Edith Weir and Mr. Paul Sherrard were honored Thursday night with a miscellaneous shower in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Martin Hebert.

One of the interesting events of the evening was the mock marriage ceremony carried out by all the guests present. After many other interesting games were played, delicious refreshments were served to the following friends and relatives of the intended bride and groom:

Miss Edith Weir, Miss Monnie Mae Byrd, Miss Agnes Gunner, Miss Minnie Lee Ross, Miss Mike Hebert, Miss Fern Hebert, Miss Helen Hunt, Miss Edwin Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. John P. McKee, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Whittaker, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. Myatt McClendon, Mrs. Norman Rushing, Mrs. Sherrard, Mrs. Willis, Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, Mrs. H. Hebert, Miss Gail Sherrard, Miss Maiea McClendon, Mr. Marshall Downs, Mr. Homer Odom, Mr. Martin Hebert, Jr., Mr. Robert May, Rev. James Carlin, Mr. Jack Willis, Mr. Rudolph Sample, Mr. Paul Sherrard.

Mr. James Carlin, of Henderson, Texas, is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hebert.

Delta Sig's Annual Dance Claims The Attention Of The Younger Set Wednesday

Riverside Country club was fairly teeming with color and life Wednesday night when the Delta Sigmas gave their annual summer dance at the club house on Island drive. Over five hundred guests enjoyed the festivity of this occasion and radiant girls in crisp evening frocks with their escorts thronged the ball room.

Miss Eola McCall of Baton Rouge was sponsor for the dance and was presented with a bouquet of pink roses by Mr. Arthur Surguine, master of ceremonies. Miss McCall, who is a beautiful girl, was lovely in a white evening model with tunic of crystal sequins. She wore a corsage of rosebuds.

Miss Peggy Bubb and Miss Sara Talbert, Delta Sig sponsors, were also presented with bouquets of pink radiance roses.

Miss Bubb wore a beautiful frock of pink crepe fashioned with wide bertha and wore pink rosebuds for her corsage.

Miss Talbert was stunning in a striking model of red with wide sash of darker shade. She wore a corsage of rosebuds.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Joel Medaries, who is a member of the Delta Sigma fraternity.

Delta Sigs and their dates enjoying this gala event were: Benjamin Dawkins, Miss Florence Ferguson, Bill

Beautiful Tea And Garden Party Given In Garden Of Mrs. Selig's Home Thursday

Gaily colored summer blossoms and beautiful flowering shrubs silhouetted against a background of dark green evergreens, casting their reflection in the lily pond of Mrs. Dean Selig's garden at her home on North Third street, created an ideal setting for the tea and garden party Wednesday afternoon when she entertained in honor of her sister Mrs. R. A. Wasson of Baton Rouge, who has been her guest for the past week.

One hundred and fifty guests called during the afternoon between the hours of three thirty and seven thirty and were greeted by Mrs. Selig, Mrs. Wasson, Mrs. R. W. O'Donnell and Miss Freida Kaplan whose marriage to Mr. Maurice Bridge will be an outstanding event of early autumn.

Mrs. Selig was charming in a becoming evening model of yellow organdie with corsage of yellow gladioli. Mrs. Wasson wore on this occasion a lovely frock of black organdie and silver slippers with corsage of red radiance rosebuds. Mrs. O'Donnell was attired in a peach colored chiffon with pink radiance rosebuds. Miss Kaplan's brunette beauty was enhanced by a frock of white crepe and silver slippers. She wore a corsage of pink rosebuds.

The guests were served at an exquisitely appointed tea table overlaid with Valenciennes lace and maiden-hair fern. A crystal punch bowl fashioned of ice surrounded with pink radiance roses, rose of montana and fern, centered the table. Silver cornucopias held white mints decorated with palest pink, yellow and blue roses. Dainty cakes, veritable works of art made by Mrs. Hattie Levy and bride's lily of the valley cakes were heaped on silver plates.

Canapes developed in pale pink, yellow and blue were served on silver trays by eight beautiful girls, Miss Suzanne Hirsch, Miss Louise Gray, Miss Joy Steele, Miss Happy Tidwell, Miss Mary Louise O'Donnell, Miss Ellen Hale, Miss Leila Dean Frazier and Miss Jean Hale.

Miss Hirsch wore a brown pin check organdie with yellow rosebuds for her corsage. Miss Gray was lovely in yellow organdie with corsage of lavender and yellow snapdragons. Miss Steele wore pale green organdie with corsage of pink rosebuds. Miss Tidwell was charming in a navy blue pin dotted organdie with tiers of tiny white ruffles. She wore a corsage of red radiance rosebuds. Miss O'Donnell wore a pink silk net over satin with corsage of pink and yellow snapdragons.

Mrs. Pollard To Leave For New Orleans

It is with keenest regret that the friends of Mrs. J. B. Pollard, who has for the past five years been the executive secretary of the Y. W. C. A. of this city, will see her departure for New Orleans after the first of September, where she will reside in the future.

Mrs. Pollard has the distinction of being the first Y. W. C. A. secretary of Monroe and under her capable direction it has grown until it has become one of the leading organizations of the city.

In addition to providing rooms for girls at a nominal price, where they are privileged to cook if they so desire, the Y. W. C. A. sponsors organizations in both the Neville high school and the Ouchita parish high school, as well as a club for business girls and clubs for girls working in the various downtown stores. An employment bureau is also conducted by the Y. W. C. A., and during the past summer, swimming classes were conducted for the members at the natorium.

When Mrs. Pollard was first appointed secretary of the Y. W. C. A., it was located on Telemague street. Such an important factor did it prove to be in the life of the community that it grew by leaps and bounds and it was necessary for the members of the board to secure larger quarters on Washington street, where it has been located since that time.

Mrs. Pollard besides being the Y. W. C. A. secretary, is also prominent in the state work of the Methodist Missionary society, of which organization she is the recording secretary. Mrs. Pollard teaches a class of young women in the Methodist church, and has taken an active part in all civic and cultural affairs in Monroe.

A number of farewell parties are being given in her honor before her departure from Monroe.

Among the many delightful affairs given during the past week for Mrs. J. B. Pollard was a handkerchief shower given by members of her Sunday school class, the Philatheas.

A business meeting of the class was held at the home of Mrs. D. C. Carter with Miss Edna Mae Mullen the hostess. At the conclusion of the meeting a package was brought to the door by a special delivery boy containing gifts from the members which was delivered to Mrs. Pollard.

Punch and cake were served to the following guests: Mrs. J. B. Pollard, Miss Vashli Batton, Miss Letia Mae Benson, Miss Kiling Carley, Mrs. Lucille Coats, Mrs. Lois Henry, Mrs. DeWitt Henry, Miss Frances Langford, Mrs. Virginia Page, Miss Esther Tarver, Mrs. Mary B. Turner, Mrs. Olive Woodruff, Mrs. Agnes Miller, Miss Grace Yarborough, Mrs. Harriet Tru-luck, Mrs. Rosa Langford Wooten, Miss Edna Mae Mullen and Mrs. D. C. Carter.

Garden Teas, Coffee Hours, Luncheons And Barbecues Given For Monroe Visitors

A number of interesting out of town guests have been extensively entertained during the past week. Mrs. James Larche of Gainesville, Fla., has been the much feted guest of Mrs. L. N. Larche and Mrs. Fair Colvin of Shreveport has been the guest of Mrs. Smith Colvin. Mrs. C. B. Shackelford's guest Mrs. A. L. Dolvin of Atlanta, Ga., has also been widely entertained and Mrs. R. A. Wasson of Baton Rouge has been the much feted guest of her sister, Mrs. Dean Selig.

Among the delightful affairs given for Mrs. Larche was the tea given by Mrs. L. N. Larche and barbecue by Mr. and Mrs. L. Langford.

On Wednesday Mrs. J. R. Tidwell entertained Mrs. Larche at dinner and Mrs. W. M. Harper entertained informally with bridge. Thursday Mrs. George Reece was hostess at dinner and on Friday Mrs. E. G. Holloway entertained at dinner.

Mrs. George Lester honored Mrs. Larche with a bridge party on Friday afternoon and Mrs. C. E. Faulk was hostess at a buffet supper.

On Saturday Mrs. R. E. Hanna was hostess at morning coffee hour and on Saturday night Mrs. Eugene Flournoy entertained with a dinner party. Mrs. E. R. Morgan will entertain Sunday afternoon with a tea in honor of Mrs. Larche.

Mrs. Fair Colvin of Shreveport has also been the recipient of a number of social courtesies during her visit in Monroe. On Monday she was honored at a luncheon on the Virginia hotel roof with Mrs. Smith Colvin. On Tuesday Mrs. George Hemphill entertained with bridge and on Wednesday Mrs. W. J. Riley was hostess at bridge. Thursday morning Mrs. Fred Hightower was hostess at a morning coffee hour and on Thursday afternoon Mrs. L. D. Rogers entertained.

Mrs. A. C. Dolvin of Atlanta, Ga., guest of Mrs. C. B. Shackelford, has also been the recipient of a number of delightful social courtesies during the past week. Mrs. E. G. Waring entertained with a luncheon bridge and on Friday Mrs. N. Hurdle was hostess at a luncheon. On Thursday morning Mrs. V. S. Garnett was hostess at a coffee hour. A number of other delightful affairs of an informal nature were also given for Mrs. Dolvin during the past week.

Holloway-Brown Marriage Announced

An announcement of interest to their friends and acquaintances in this city is made by Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Brown who announce the marriage of their daughter Jewel Maurine, to Mr. Ben Parker Holloway on August eleventh.

Missionary Society Meets Last Tuesday

The Methodist Missionary society held its regular program meeting for the month of August, Tuesday afternoon, with Circle number 8 in charge. Mrs. W. B. Clark and Mrs. T. O. Brown presiding.

The meeting opened with a song "For the beauty of the earth" by the assembly. Rev. R. M. Bentley gave the devotionals, and a most inspirational talk on rural Methodist churches, closing with a prayer. The topic discussed was "Rural Life." Mrs. McQuillier gave a most interesting talk, using "Rural Work in Ouachita" for her subject. After which a vocal selection "Abide With Me" was beautifully rendered by Mrs. E. G. Henkle, accompanied by Mrs. John Sholars. A paper on rural life in the south was read by Mrs. T. O. Brown.

A beautiful poem "America's Making" was read by Mrs. W. B. Clark after which the meeting closed with a song "America the Beautiful" and the Mizpah benediction.

Mrs. Faulk Hostess At Buffet Supper

Mrs. C. E. Faulk was a lovely hostess Friday evening when she entertained with a beautifully appointed buffet supper in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Larche in the garden of her home in West Monroe.

The guests were seated at tables centered with bowls of summer blossoms where they enjoyed an appetizing supper.

Included in this delightful party were: Mr. and Mrs. James Larche, Miss Irene Clarke, Mrs. John Wooten, Mrs. Gladys Grant, Miss Beryl Madison, Miss Mada McClendon, Miss Virginia Calvert, Miss Helena Haywood, Hillary Parker, Dr. Morgan Simonton, Tom Davenport, Charles Eby, George Snelling, Ed Watkins, Robert Faulk, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Faulk, Jr., and Mrs. Kate Morrice.

Covington-Leath Nuptials Announced

Friends will be interested in the following announcement: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Leath announce the marriage of their daughter Dorothy Elena Leath to Mr. R. L. Covington, Jr., on August fifteenth.

Miss Ilo Boyd of West Monroe, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Boyd and family of Fairbanks, left Friday morning by automobile for Chicago, where they will visit the World's fair, later visiting in Ohio and the east.

Mr. Hugh Fair Ervin of Memphis, Tenn., is the guest of his parents Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ervin, of West Monroe.

Mrs. Alma Murphy of Calion, Ark., is the lovely guest of Mrs. H. B. Newman.

A JUMPER FROCK IS IDEAL FOR COMBINING SMART MATERIALS

PATTERN 1949

By Anne Adams

In the fall fashion openings, combinations of materials were given much prominence—especially combinations of dull and shiny surfaces. Could you think of a nicer way to express this idea than in the jumper dress shown above? Imagine it with the blouse of dark brown satin and the skirt and pull-over made of a rust and brown wool mixture. Or think of it a dark and medium shade of the fashionable green. The blouse is soft and becoming with its narrow collar knotted in the front and its graceful sleeves. The skirt is not only smart and well-fitting—it is very comfortable to walk in because of the pleats at the bottom of the front panel. The front of the pull-over with its high pointed girdle is slenderizing and the sash from the side seam makes it perfectly adjustable to the figure. Have you noticed that clever slash down the back of the blouse—chic, isn't it? Taken all in all this outfit will start the new season in the way it should go for any woman.

Johnnie Elbert And Effie Allen Return Home

Dropping by to see Johnnie Smith Elbert and Effie Allen yesterday afternoon proved to be a call of revelations concerning the fall styles. Both Mrs. Elbert and Mrs. Allen have just returned from a month's trip to Chicago and Michigan, where they have been combining business with pleasure—and both were full of news about clothes and fashions.

Listening to Johnnie talk about styles is like listening to Schiaparelli, Heim, Madame Yrlande or Creed, famous creators of fashions. Her unerring good taste in selecting costumes for her clients and her exceptional flair for clothes have made her and authority on fashions and frocks.

"Red, green and black are the leading fall shades," stated Mrs. Elbert, "and new materials are the oatmeal crepes, barley crepes, crepe nana, barkeston crepes and sheer alpaca." "Skirts are somewhat tighter this winter and are frequently slit at the bottom, giving more freedom in walking. Wrap around skirts are also endorsed by leading stylists. Skirt lengths, always a source of much concern to milady, will be from nine to ten inches from the floor."

And about hats—"Tams and tricornis will be popular this winter," stated Mrs. Allen. "And turbans will still be good. Sizes will vary from medium to small."

Mrs. Allen had some provocative little hats on display—hats with no crown to speak of, an impertinent tilt and turned up at the back—hats that tempt milady to spend her household allowance, regardless of her husband's wrath.

Miss Eunice Lee is expected to return to Monroe Sunday after spending a week in Chicago, where she attended the American Cosmetics convention.

Mrs. Kurt Svanberg, accompanied by her son, Sixten, and Miss Elizabeth Stenberg, left Friday evening for Chicago, where they will be joined by Mr. Svanberg. While in Chicago they will enjoy the Century of Progress exposition.

Sol B. Mayer, Jr., has returned from Chicago, where he has been attending the Century of Progress exposition. While in Chicago he was the guest of his cousins, Marie and Harold Godchaux.

Miss Myrta Reece Stewart has returned from Chicago where she enjoyed the Century of Progress exposition. While in Chicago Miss Stewart was extensively entertained by friends with whom she was visiting.

Hay-Sullivan Marriage Of Interest To Friends

Friends of Miss Volle Sullivan, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sullivan of West Monroe, will be interested in the announcement of her marriage to Mr. Richard Hay of Oklahoma City, Okla., the marriage being solemnized in Bastrop, August 23rd.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hay left for Bow, Kentucky, where they will be the guests of relatives of Mr. Hay. Later they will return to Oklahoma City, where Mr. Hay holds a responsible position. Mrs. Hay is a lovely girl with many friends in this city who regret that her marriage will take her elsewhere to reside. She attended the School for Mutes in Baton Rouge and possesses much talent and ability.

'King Cobra' Written By Mark Channing Diverting Tale Of Life In Orient

Diana Lindsay is kidnapped by a band of wild Himalayan hillmen and her father murdered. Major Colin Gray, V. C., a secret service man, follows her abductors and their leader, Alam Khan (King Cobra) to a castle in a mountain fastness. Then ensues a series of desperate situations, hairbreadth escapes, tortures and harem intrigues. Gray, 6 feet 4, of fearless British manhood, finds himself matched with the Cobra, a black-bearded villain who stands 6-9, not counting his greasy turban. Other menaces to the life and limb of the pair are The Veiled Man, sinister overlord of Alam Khan; Khooon the Mongol, a sadistic dwarf descended from Genghis Khan; Jaffir, a scheming eunuch, and Shiv, the Cobra's pet tiger.

With this sabih-exterminating crew conspiring against them, Colin and Diana have rather heavy going of it throughout most of the book, but their efforts to keep head and shoulders together furnish an exciting evening's entertainment for the reader.

A note of mysticism is furnished by an Indian holy man known as the Swastika Sadhu, a vision of whose white-robed figure appears to the harried pair whenever they find themselves in a seemingly inextricable tangle. Solemnly standing with a red swastika burning on his breast, he always points the way to escape.

While Gray is held prisoner, being exquisitely tortured to make him divulge the secret of a cipher code, Diana languishes in the Cobra's harem. She is saved from the clutches of Alam Khan by the stratagems of Shireen, his favorite, who becomes Diana's protectress. All, of course, comes right in the end, but the way in which the young couple cheat the Cobra of his prey against tremendous odds keeps the reader on tenterhooks.

A delightful feature of the book is the conversation of the Oriental characters, who exchange both fulsome courtesies and venomous insults with studied urbanity. Mark Channing knows the east, and the Indian frontier especially, and this knowledge, wedded to an easy and entertaining prose style, has produced an unusually diverting thriller. Those who like swift action and blood-curdling episodes and are not particular about plausibility of plot will be sure to enjoy King Cobra.

ROWE EQUALS RECORD WITH 16TH STRAIGHT VICTORY

SCHOOLBOY BATS IN WINNING RUN IN LATE RALLY

Tigers Score Three Runs
In Ninth To Defeat
Senators, 4-2

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Schoolboy Rowe, Detroit giant pitcher, today won his bid for his sixteenth consecutive victory, and baseball's hall of fame, by driving in the winning run for the Tigers 4 to 2 victory over Washington in the ninth inning.

The victory for the 22-year-old right hander makes him the joint holder of the American league's record for consecutive games with Walter Johnson, Joe Wood and Lefty Grove.

Detroit also advanced further toward the flag today, extending its margin over New York to five full games.

Until the ninth it looked as if all the Schoolboy's pitching and hitting was futile. Washington, playing a sparkling defensive game behind Professor Monte Weaver, led 2 to 1.

But Hank Greenberg, first up in the ninth inning, hit a long foul into the left field stands and then poked a towering homer over the right field wall. Owen singled, Weaver was replaced by Russell. Fox singled to center, The Washington infield drew in and up walked Rowe. He fouled a couple and then blasted a single to left center. That was enough to win but an error let another run in.

Rowe had struck out only one until the ninth, but with a rain threatening to stop proceedings and cause a Washington victory, he bore down.

Rowe allowed nine hits but he did not walk a man, and he got a double and a single in addition to his game winning single in the ninth.

NEUSEL BATTLES SCHMELING TODAY

Heavyweight Title Of Germany At Stake In Bout At Hamburg

HAMBURG, Germany, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Germany's two greatest heavyweights, Walter Neusel and Max Schmeling, will climb into the ring of a dirt-track arena here Sunday in a 12-round bout for the German championship.

A capacity crowd—there will be room for 105,000 spectators—was in prospect for this the most widely-ballyhooed fight in German boxing history.

Schmeling, the more experienced of the two and a former world's heavy-weight champion, was the experts' choice to win although the wagers were being placed on an even money, or close to even money basis. Maxie lost much prestige as a result of his draw with ancient Paulino Uzcudun at Barcelona some months ago, however, and Neusel, younger and much bigger than his rival, was conceded an excellent chance of scoring an upset.

Schmeling at his well-appointed training camp in Travemuende, is looking past the Neusel bout to the possibility of regaining the world championship.

TWILIGHT SERIES TO BEGIN MONDAY

St. Matthew's And Y's
Men's Club Meet In
First Of Playoff

The battle for the championship of the Twilight Softball league will get under way Monday when two of the four teams which finished high in the schedule of games meet at Forsythe park at 5:30 o'clock. Monday's game will bring together the St. Matthew's club, which finished first, and the Y's Men's club, which finished third.

Tuesday the National Guard, second place team, meets the Firemen, who won fourth place in an extra game with the Baptists after the two teams had ended the schedule in a tie.

The first elimination series will determine which two teams will meet for the league championship. The series this week will be on a best-two-out-of-three basis, while the championship series will be three out of five.

St. Matthew's and the Y's Men meet in their second game on Wednesday and the Guardsmen and Firemen tie up Thursday. If a third game in each group is necessary the St. Matthew's-Y's Men game will be played Friday and the National Guard-Firemen game Saturday. All games will be played at Forsythe park and will start at 5:30 o'clock. Umpires selected to work the series are Wene, Monroe and Baker, with Mr. Wene designated umpire-in-chief. No admission charge will be made for the first elimination but in the championship series next week, a charge of 10 cents per game will be made to help defray expenses of the league. The championship club will be given a large silver trophy.

The championship series will start on Tuesday, Sept. 4. The teams will not play on Labor day. The National Guard team did not finish its schedule but the club had enough victories to clinch second place and the commissioners decided not to delay the series any longer, especially in view of the fact that the remaining games of the Guardsmen would not change the position of any club in the standing.

Large crowds have been attending the softball games this season and it is expected that the series will attract several hundred spectators at each game.

SHORT AND SNAPPY

The crowd around the score board at Harry Proffit's let out a big whoop when Detroit scored three runs in the ninth yesterday. Everybody was pulling for Schoolboy Rowe to equal that record. Now they'll have to strain a little to help him get over the next hump. . . . Lots of play this week. There's the Big Six league, Ouachita Valley league and Twilight league. . . . The Big Six classic starts at Tallulah today and it ought to be plenty fast. Both teams have been strengthened for the big test. And Winnboro is out to avenge that drubbing they took two years ago. . . . Bill Terry says Walter Johnson's contract with the Indians wouldn't have been renewed but for the Cleveland sports writers' violent criticism. . . . And the wise Mr. Terry also says Babe Ruth will manage the Yankees next season, even if Joe McCarthy does hold a contract calling for $400,000 for another season. Bill says Col. Ruppert will pay the $40,000 and drive Mr. McCarthy from the premises.

Detroit's streak of 14 games started with a victory by Tommy Bridges and ended when the same Bridges was knocked out of the box by the Yankees. . . . The Yanks have signed Bill Holman, a 16-year-old pitcher from Zeigler, Ill. Connie Mack, you know, brought Jimmie Fox to the majors when Jimmie was only 16. Now the Yanks hope young Holman will prove just as valuable as Mr. Mack's youngster. . . . "If the Cubs baseball manager said recently, 'Dizzy Dean is worth $200,000.' Yet nobody has heard the Cardinals offering Dizzy at even such a price as that. . . . Mr. Klein is the grand bust of the season. After all, there may have been something to that short fence Philly park. . . . They say Eldon Auker's subway slinging may become as confusing as the league batsmen as Car to American league screwball is to National league busters. . . . Anyway, Mickey Cochrane hopes so.

Gene Tunney is only two pounds above the weight at which he defended the heavyweight title. And Jim Brown's brother is a pitcher for the Reading club of the New York-Pennsylvania league. . . . Which reminds me that Jeem London and Strangler Lewis are to stage the unteeth meeting at Chicago soon. In all probability, London will win this one. . . . The football news is gradually edging its way into the sports pages and it won't be long now until the boys will be working up a big lather on the gridiron. I still don't see why the south starts its football so early. . . . The Giants expect Bill Myers, the Columbus star, to fill the bill at shortstop next year. Travis Jackson will be shifted to the far corner, where he would eventually find himself anyway. The longer Jackson can prolong his career, the better off the Giants will be.

DO YOU REMEMBER?
One Year Ago Today—Tommy Hitchcock, top ranking polo player of the United States, was forced out of action for the rest of the year due to an accident suffered in Chicago.

Five Years Ago Today—Mrs. Payne Whitney's unbeaten Goose Egg won the first running of the Lady Owners' Handicap at Saratoga Springs.

Ten Years Ago Today—The New York Yankees bought Pitcher Walter E. Beall, ace of the Rochester club of the International League, for a price in excess of $50,000.

Vines And Richards Lose
In Professional Net Meet

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Thrusting two former American Davis Cup stars, Vincent Richards of New York, and Ellsworth Vines, Jr., of Pasadena, Calif., aside today, Karel Kozeluh and Hans Nusslein made the final round of the national professional singles tournament tomorrow an all-European affair.

In the opening semi-final, Vines, national amateur titleholder in 1931 and 1932, was completely outplayed by the German veteran, Nusslein, and took a 7-3, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2 beating. Kozeluh, spry little Czechoslovakian, looked just as good in eliminating Richards, the defending champion, in straight sets, 6-2, 8-6, 6-0.

By Harry Grayson
(Sports Editor of NEA Service)
Frank J. Navin was torn between two choices last fall. The president of the Detroit Baseball club could obtain Babe Ruth in exchange for John Stone, Connie Mack asked $100,000 and a catcher for Mickey Cochrane.

Navin left it to Harry G. Salsinger, veteran Detroit sports editor. Salsinger didn't have to be told by Bucky Harris, who had bowed out to go to Boston, that the ineffectiveness of the Tiger pitchers in 1933 largely was due to bush league catching.

Having made his decision, Navin did not let the fact that the Detroit club was broke stop him. He hopped on a New York train, and borrowed $100,000 in Wall Street. Then he telephoned Mack in Philadelphia. Johnny Pask went to the AAAAAA's in the deal.

The barter turned out to be a darling for Navin and his club. Detroit, which ran a mediocre fifth last year and was a poor attraction, lost no time this spring in becoming the biggest card in the game. The Tigers will play to close to 1,000,000 people at home. They recently performed before 131,697 paid admissions in three playing days at the Yankee stadium. Navin's profit will be more than $250,000.

Detroit led Cleveland, 4 to 3, as Monte Pearson doubled into the overflow crowd to open the seventh inning of a tough game at Navin field. Galatzer batted out a punt to Marvin Owen, Pearson legging it to third base.

Cochrane elected to cut off the tying run at that occasion. He might simply have changed his mind. But Cochrane usually has a very good reason for doing something. His nine

GIANTS FINALLY BEAT DIZZY DEAN

Leaders Rally At Expense
Of Eccentric Star
And Win, 7-6

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 25.—(AP)—The Giants finally beat their nemesis, "Dizzy" Dean, today, dropped the Cardinals back into 3rd place behind the Chicago Cubs and increased their league lead to 6½ games.

The scoring was 7 to 6. After shutting out Bill Terry's forces yesterday, "Dizzy" came back in a relief role today, but his usual effectiveness was missing and the Giants nicked him for their winning runs.

It was Dean's Hank Leiber first defeat of the season at the hands of the league champions, whom he has beaten five times.

After spotting the Red Birds a 5-run lead, the Giants got their attack under way in the fifth and kept it going against Bill Walker and Dean, who entered the game in the seventh.

Bill Delancy, the first batter to face Parmelee's successor, Carl Hubbell, rifled a home run on the right field pavilion, scoring behind Joe Medwick and Jimmy Collins.

The five-run lead looked safe to the 7,600 cash customers and 9,000 women, but Walker weakened in the fifth. Terry's single, Hank Leiber's triple and Mel Ott's single, his first hit of the series, accounted for two runs.

The Giants picked up another run in the sixth on singles by Johnny Vergez, Hank Danning, who batted for Hubbell, and Hughey Critz.

With Leiber and Ott on base as a result of an error by Leo Durocher and a walk, Dean came in from the bull pen and was greeted by a single by Travis Jackson, Leiber scoring. Ott then made the tying run on Gus Mancuso's fly to right.

The Cardinals went ahead again in the seventh when Dean singled and Frisch tripled, but the Giants counted two more in the eighth on singles by Joe Moore, Critz and Jackson.

The victory gave the Giants two out of three for the "crucial" series. Box score:

LUTTRALL MEETS PLUMMER FRIDAY

TOUGH TEXAN TO RETURN AGAINST HUSKY IOWA STAR

Bruscato Hopes To Book Double Main Event For Next Show

Cowboy Luttrall, the kingpin of the mat means hereabouts, will return to Roosevelt stadium next Friday night in the main event of the weekly mat show, Promoter Charlie Bruscato announced last night. Bruscato has assigned the task of attempting to tame Mr. Luttrall to Johnny Plummer, who probably rates runner-up honors for the all-time rough-house title of the local arena.

Luttrall, it will be remembered, is the portly gent who knocked 'em off with regularity at the stadium a couple of months ago. The Cowboy started his share of riots while performing here and Promoter Bruscato had to bar him for awhile or suffer the consequences. It had about come to the point where several local fans desired Mr. Luttrall's scalp.

Luttrall, of course, had only himself to blame for the state of affairs. He challenged all comers and on his final appearance at the stadium a month or so ago, he and Bruscato came to blows over Luttrall's refusal to leave his rough tactics inside the ring.

Luttrall's absence has allowed all concerned to cool off and although the Cowboy can expect to get a warm reception when he climbs through the ropes Friday night, his appearance isn't calculated to set off any fireworks among the customers. What the fans' reactions will be after he gets through with Plummer remains to be seen.

Johnny made quite a showing at the stadium last Friday night when he polished off George Cochran in straight sets. Cochran, who has defeated such wrestlers as Howard Cantonwine, Pat McGill and Jack Washburn, isn't easy to handle, yet in that second fall, Plummer picked him up and hurled him through the ropes with ease. Twice he set Cochran down in the aisle and George looked rather surprised each time.

Plummer is the gent who encountered with Jack Dempsey in Alexandria several months ago brought him nationwide publicity. It wasn't anything new for a wrestler to tangle with the former champion but Johnny's wife took up the quarrel after Dempsey had knocked Plummer out for his cycle, the former champ got on his feet.

Promoter Bruscato said last night that he was attempting to line up another good match for the semi-final and that if he was successful in getting two good wrestlers, he would make the card a double main event. That is, each fall would be a two-hour time limit affair.

Bruscato also said he was trying to find a referee capable of handling the rough grapplers. The referee problem has been Charlie's chief worry since the heavyweights started coming here and he's still looking for someone who can handle 'em.

Sav-Mor Softball Team Meets All-Stars Today

The Sav-Mor grocery softball team will meet the Monroe All-Stars in a double header at the Barkdull Faulk diamond this afternoon. The first encounter is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock.

The grocery boys raked in a double header with the Stars last Sunday and will be out to duplicate the feat today.

Renaud, of the grocery team, and Henry Gilliland are expected to oppose each other on the mound.

Time, 2:45.

GIANTS, FINALLY BEAT DIZZY DEAN

macher 2 in 2-1-3. Walker 10 in 6 (none out in seventh). J. Dean 5 in 3. Winning pitcher, Schumacher. Losing pitcher, J. Dean. Umpires, Pittman and Stark. Time, 2:48.

The victory was Hoyt's twelfth of the season. He drove in two runs with his two hits.

Indian Moore and Bill Swift staged a fine hurling duel in the second until the eighth, when both were chased to the showers by rattling base hits.

CUBS RALLY TO WIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Resurrecting one of the winning ninth-inning rallies for which they were noted in 1932, the Cubs put over four runs in the ninth today to defeat the Dodgers 4 to 3 and end a three-game losing streak.

For the first eight frames Johnny Babich, Brooklyn rookie, shut out the Cubs with four hits while homers by Danny Taylor and Linus Frey off Gus Bush's delivery gave the Dodgers a 3-0 lead. Then Chicago got three blows off Babich in the ninth, touched relief pitcher Tom Zachary for another home run and finally Bill Jurgens ran home with the winning run when Zachary, trying for a force-play at third, threw the ball into the left field bull pen.

FARLEY REVIEWS YEAR'S ADVANCES

Postmaster General Says
Business Is Definitely
Mending

SEA GRIT, N. J., Aug. 25.—(AP)—With optimistic utterances, Postmaster General James A. Farley today reviewed a year and a half of Democratic administration at Washington and issued an invitation to Republican voters to lend again their support to the Democratic party "philosophy of government that puts human values first."

Business is "definitely on the mend," he said, and predicted the start of a wide revival in the building industry under federal administration of public housing legislation.

The postmaster general took up briefly administrative results in order of relief, agricultural and industrial recovery, the NRA, construction, banking and securities reform and national and international monetary activities.

"Modifications of the NRA are being worked out to meet changing conditions," he declared, "but I predict that no matter what form the revision takes, one thing will last—its spirit and its basic doctrine, x x x."

"Business is definitely on the mend. There are seasonal recessions, but everywhere, even in the last few days, there has been a noticeable pickup in confidence."

"The people have regained their confidence. It is now up to the business men, the industrialists, the bankers, to put their shoulders to the wheel and help the machinery of recovery to get started once more on its rightful way."

Mangham

The zone meeting for the Monroe district was held at Little Creek on Wednesday. There were six societies represented, Winnboro, Wisner, Gilbert, Buckner, Mangham and Archibald. An interesting program on "Sharing With Others" was given. The program was followed by a talk and motion picture given by Dr. Schelling asking for the coupons that will help the Benevolent Home in Alexandria. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the Little Creek Missionary society.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleischmann of Ruzon were brief visitors in town Monday. Mr. Fleischmann, who was freshman coach at L. P. I. last year, is employed by Mangham high school as coach and will reside at the teachers' home.

Misses Ada Preston, Jeanette Hixon and Sara DeMoss have returned from a motor trip through Clarksville, Miss., Memphis, Tenn., and Blytheville, Ark.

Mrs. C. N. Hatch, music director of the Mangham high school is taking a special course in the Chicago School of Music.

Fred Perry and Jerry McLain were quietly married Thursday, August 16th, at Paris, Tenn.

Mrs. D. Curry and children of Utica, Miss., is spending a week with her sister, Mrs. A. M. Lee.

Rev. Albert Schwab is to begin a meeting at the Baptist church August 26.

One of the most noteworthy events of late was an exhibition of Korean souvenirs shown at the Methodist church here Wednesday night by Rev. and Mrs. Emmerich, who were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Poole. Among the exhibits were silks, hand work, hand-made brass utensils, hand-painted pictures done on native cloth thin enough for a pocket handkerchief. There were sandals, a temple gong, hand-made boxes, Korean currency and picture post cards of every lovely or interesting spot in Korea. Visitors from Winnboro, Archibald and Buckner were among those who enjoyed the exhibit.

To Hold Examinations For Federal Positions

The United States civil service commission Saturday, through Eugene Shows, secretary of the local civil service board, announced open competitive examinations for the following positions:

Junior civil service examiner, $1,620 a year, civil service commission. Closing date for filing applications, September 11.

Junior technologist (milling and baking investigations), $2,000 to $2,500 a year, bureau of plant industry, department of agriculture. Closing date September 20.

Associate cotton technologist, $3,200 to $3,800 a year; assistant cotton technologist, $2,600 to $3,200 a year, bureau of agricultural economics, department of agriculture. Closing date September 20.

Full information regarding qualifications and the examinations may be obtained from Mr. Shows at his office in the postoffice building on Jackson street.

Thomas Jefferson required only one sitting to write the Declaration of Independence. It was started at night and finished by dawn with a quill on a writing desk of his own making, which is still preserved.

"Black Widow" spider and the scorpion is about the same as the difference between Japan and Russia.

NAZIS HAVE ISSUED, "Ten Marriage Commandments for Germans," emphasizing the commandment: "Seek a mate, not a playmate."

That would not suit marrying American Youth. Imagine marrying a girl that could not dance the tango or play jazz music.

Young Germans are reminded that each of them will be, some day "the ancestor of German Nordics, a great responsibility."

They are warned to marry for love, but with good judgment, and are told, "Never marry the one good person in a bad family," lest the family deficiencies crop out in their children. Nature's old commandment to "marry the person you like, and then make the best of it" is probably the best rule. At least, it has improved the race.

MR. CAPONE'S lawyer still protests against moving his famous client from Atlanta to the government's prison for "bad men" on Alcatraz, rocky island just inside the Golden Gate of San Francisco.

You sympathize with the lawyer, his prosperous client suddenly whistled to a point three thousand miles away.

CAPONE IS SAID to be indignant because the ward of Alcatraz plans to "keep him away from all contact with his former underworld associates."

He and the other alleged "bad men" will be isolated, no baseball club, not even a radio. Well may Mr. Capone say, "You might as well be in jail."

He may, like a distinguished prisoner of long ago, find comfort and encouragement watching some spider spin its web, never discouraged, but one spider is poor amusement compared with a good radio set.

THE PLAN to reduce wheat acreage next year at public expense will cost the taxpayers $102,000,000.

A tax of one-half of one per cent on gross business transactions in New York city, voted 15 to 1, by the board of estimate, will cost New York city business men FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS.

Drought relief will cost a few HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS, other schemes will cost a few THOUSAND MILLION DOLLARS.

These sums that would once have been considered substantial do not amount to much now, especially as we manufacture our own money and inflate with paper government bonds.

But, there must be some sum of money that means something, even in the new era.

Uncle Sam, seeing his money going out, must feel like the Frenchman who fell from the skyscraper roof, and passing the tenth floor, remarked: "It is all right, if it only lasts."

Monterey

Mrs. Emmar Burley, dietician at the Natchez sanatorium, Natchez, Miss., was a visitor this past week in the homes of her brothers, W. E. Burley and F. K. Burley, and sister, Mrs. M. G. Rabb.

Mrs. M. G. Rabb, Mrs. Emmar Burley and W. F. Burley and Louis F. Burley left Monterey by auto early Tuesday morning for Houston, Texas, for a visit at the home of Mrs. Ida Burley.

Mrs. Edwin Ford will return home soon from Houston, Texas, where she has spent several weeks visiting her sisters, Misses Bernice and Ethel Williams, trained nurses of the City Hospital of Houston.

Chairman H. M. Barnsfather of the Monterey Community club urges all Black river farmers to attend the community club meeting at 8 p. m., September 5, when plans will be discussed for the Black River fair to be held at the Monterey School farm early in October.

Mrs. Una Maxwell of Shaw, La., returned home last week after a pleasant visit at the home of her father, Mr. W. A. Cross in the Island section.

Alton Carter, class of 1934, of Monterey high school, is now at Parris Island, S. C., serving an enlistment of four years as a member of the U. S. Marines.

Mrs. Phyllis Burley, home economics teacher at the Monterey high school, returned home Sunday from Baton Rouge, La., where she has been visiting relatives.

Miss May Burley of New Orleans, La., and a girl companion are spending the week at the home of Miss Burley's cousin, Miss Eloise Burley of Monterey.

BUSINESS INDUSTRIAL--REVIEW OF THE TWIN CITIES

PONTIAC DEMAND HOLDS UP WELL

Vice President Sees Continued Popularity For New Pontiacs

PONTIAC, Mich., Aug. 25.—"At this period of the year when there is a hot weather seasonal decline in practically all business, it is possible generally to pick out several definite indications of what to expect during the coming months," observed A. W. L. Gilpin, vice-president and general sales manager of Pontiac Motor company, as he ran his pencil down a sheet of figures prepared by the company's statistical experts.

"For instance," said Mr. Gilpin, "in the matter of Pontiac retail deliveries, July was only 18 per cent below the best month of the spring selling season. I think this is holding up unusually well, when you consider the factors of hot weather, vacations and the general letting down that seizes the country at this time every year, and invariably cuts down sales of motor cars."

"One of the most favorable signs from the standpoint of its benefits to the trade in general is the fact that since the first of May we have kept our production below our retail deliveries thereby enabling our dealers to reduce their stocks of cars on hand and lower their investment in inventories. That is always a good thing for the dealer. Any business man hates to go through his peak selling season and find himself with all of his profits tied up in new merchandise which may stand on his floor or shelves for months to come."

"So well have we gauged our production and retail sales that at the end of July, our dealers had a third less new Pontiacs in stock than at the end of April."

"Another good indicator is to be found in the sale and the stocks of used cars. Pontiac dealers sold more used cars in July than they did in June, which is contrary to what generally happens. Furthermore, after a busy selling season, there were only 1,051 more used cars in the hands of all of our dealers the last day of July than there were on January 1. Frequently, when the busy season ends motor car dealers have tied up their profits in a considerable increase in used car stocks."

"What these figures and deductions indicate to me is that Pontiac dealers are rounding out a most successful season with their businesses in a good liquid condition and without fear of having to carry large stocks of merchandise over into the fall and winter. If this depression hasn't done anything else, it has shown us all, dealers and manufacturers alike, how to adjust our businesses to the time of year so that we do not use up during the off season all that we profit by during the busy season."

More than 100,000 people are stricken with lobar pneumonia every year in the United States.

Costume Jewelry from Dodge Auto Parts

Charming Marian Peck of the movies displays something new in costume jewelry consisting of automobile parts. It speaks praise for the care Dodge Brothers give to car components when they can be worn as ornaments by Milady. The tiara is composed of hardened valve inserts which reduce valve grinding and save gasoline; the necklace is made from a new type universal joint bushing that resists wear; bracelets are of piston rings, and the ring Miss Peck displays upon her finger is adorned by needle bearing rollers, a special feature that does away with friction in the new Dodge automobiles.

SHOES REBUILT AT AIROLDI SHOP

New Process Enables Local Shop To Turn Out Factory-Like Work

Now is the time to bring out those fall clothes to get them ready for the coming season. And don't overlook your shoes. There isn't any necessity for throwing fall shoes away if they need half-soleing or other repairs. Just take them to the Joseph Airolodi Shoe shop at 119 DeSiard street and you'll be surprised at the new-like job Mr. Airolodi and his associates will turn out.

A new process, the Penn-Standard Sole cementing process, has been installed by the Airolodi shop and the women of Monroe and vicinity are finding that this method is by far the most satisfactory in repairing their shoes.

The Penn-Standard process requires no nails, no wire and no stitches and thus eliminates the usual stiffness which has made repaired shoes so uncomfortable in the past. The Penn-Standard method leaves the shoe with no half-sole appearance, no stiffened feet and no tightness. Satisfaction is guaranteed by this method.

A shoe fits because, through wear, it has moulded itself to the exact contour of the wearer's foot. There's no need to discard it when the sole has become worn. That painfully acquired comfort which it now gives is a hard-earned luxury. To preserve this comfort the Penn-Standard process was developed. Now for the first time in history can that shoe be re-soled in a manner which eliminates stiffened soles, nails or wires and the half-sole appearance of former methods.

When you try on your shoes after Airolodi half-soles them with the new method you will find all the old comfort, plus new good looks.

The Airolodi shop is ready to help you preserve your shoes. Their experts will be glad to tell you what should be done to add life to your footwear. As soon as a seam begins to rip, a sole wears thin, or heels become uneven, take your shoes to Airolodi. "A stitch in time" is a good adage for shoes. Repairs, if made promptly, cost less and last longer. If badly worn, the shoe may not be worth repairing.

It is particularly important to keep your heels squared up. You are often judged by the appearance of your heels. But run-over heels do more than look bad; they twist the shoe out of shape and put unhealthy strains on feet, legs and spine. Trim level heels are worth the little they cost.

Consult Airolodi's Electric Shoe shop about your shoe problems. They'll be glad to advise you. Don't throw away old shoes till Airolodi decides they are no longer worth repairing. Ask them about the different grades of leather and rubber heels and which are most profitable to buy.

PLYMOUTH SETS MOTOR CAR MARK

Millionth Car Is Turned Out; Chrysler Sees Greater Value

Setting a new all-time record for the automotive industry, Walter P. Chrysler has produced his first million Plymouths in six years.

Never before in the history of the industry has a manufacturer built his first million cars in so short a time.

Figuring 1900 as the real beginning of automobile manufacture, it took the entire industry twelve years to build the first million cars. This includes all makes of automobiles then produced, the records show.

Introduced in 1928, the Plymouth gained steadily in popularity. When floating power engine mountings were introduced in 1931, Plymouth spurred to third place in the industry, a position it has held ever since.

Led by B. E. Hutchinson, chairman of the board of Plymouth and D. S. Eddins, vice-president and general manager, executives of Chrysler Motors attended the ceremony when the millionth car rolled from the line.

Mr. Chrysler, coat off, drove the car from the line while employees cheered. In commenting to newspaper men, Mr. Chrysler said:

"I believe that the American public today is getting the biggest motor car dollar in the history of the automobile business."

"I do not think that the changes in the low-price field during the next few years will be of a radical nature. While I believe low price cars of the future will be even smarter, more modern, more economical, they will stay more or less within conventional lines."

"I believe that conditions will continue firm in this country, and that the American public, accustomed as they are to better things, will continue to be able to obtain them."

"We do not need to worry about progress in this country as long as industry is encouraged to advance and is permitted and is enabled to contribute to the social and economic development of the country, as it has always done in the past."

EXPERT WORK AT LOCAL DUCO SHOP

Plant At 1111 DeSiard Makes Old Automobiles Look Like New

If you feel that you can't afford a new automobile this fall, take your old car to The Duko shop, at 1111 DeSiard street, and let them tell you how reasonably they can make it look like new. They will not only give you a factory finish but will repair the top of your car and straighten out those dents in the body and fenders. "Major Wrecks Our Specialty" is the slogan of the Duko shop and their work on these jobs in the past indicates just what they can accomplish with an old car.

The Duko shop operates the authorized Duko auto refinishing station and they paint your car with genuine Duko, the best known and most efficient of automobile finishes. It's the same Duko the maker puts on your car when it comes rolling out of the factory.

The Duko shop will impart that "factory finish" look to your car, no matter how shabby it may appear before you place it in their charge. There are a variety of colors to select from but no matter which you choose, you will be surprised at the job when it is completed. The old phrase "just like new" may be most aptly applied to a Duko-ed car.

Employees of the Duko shop are experts at refinishing automobile bodies. Every particular of the job is done efficiently even down to the striping and other intricate phases of the work.

And you will be surprised to learn just how reasonable the price is. Car owners who believe that a complete paint job is beyond their means would do well to consult the Duko shop. The charge is small compared to the beauty and added life it gives your car, and too, you don't have to have all cash, either. You may arrange to pay for the job on installments. Thus, there is no reason to delay having that car repainted.

Automobile owners are invited to visit the shop at 1111 DeSiard street. They will be glad to furnish you an estimate on the job without obligation.

MAIN BUFFET IS POPULAR PLACE

The Main Buffet, on DeSiard street at St. John, is the gathering place for sportsmen and all the "live ones" and the good fellowship and friendliness there make it a pleasure to visit Harry Proffit's place at any hour of the day and until 1 o'clock at night.

The Main bar is the most popular one in town. Probably the largest and most varied stock of liquors in the section are carried there, and experienced men are behind that bar. They are capable of mixing any kind of drink just as you like it. Harry Stough and Ira Pettit, both of whom are well known here and throughout northeast Louisiana, preside at the Main bar.

These men are thoroughly experienced in mixing drinks and with a large stock at their command, can please the most fastidious. The Main Buffet caters to a high class of trade, and Mr. Proffit and his associates see that a high standard is maintained at all times.

Baseball fans, of course, will find the same service at Harry Proffit's that has been the custom in the past. The major league baseball scores are brought to the fans by ticker and the scores are posted by innings. The baseball board is convenient to the entrance and fans are invited to drop by and watch the games progress each day.

A domino room has been constructed at the Main Buffet and domino players find it a pleasant place for their favorite pastime.

A complete stock of cigars, cigarettes, smoking tobacco, pipes and other smokers' supplies may be seen at the Main. Also a variety of magazines and newspapers may be found there.

INDIANA BOY WINS SOAP-BOX DERBY

Chevrolet - Sponsored Event Thrills Huge Crowds At Dayton

A true soap-box type racer won the Chevrolet-sponsored All-American Soap Box Derby at Dayton, Ohio, August 19, in which the winners of local contests in 34 cities competed for the national championship. The winning car, driven by Robert Turner, age 11, of Muncie, Ind., who built it out of lumber, tin, and scrap iron, rolled on bare wheels and plain bearings to victory over more elaborate creations fitted with roller bearings, rubber tires, springs and automobile type steering devices. One of the winner's wheels collapsed just after he crossed the finish line. Turner, the first national soap box champion, received as prizes a four-year scholarship and a hundred dollar wrist watch.

Both the Kettering cup, offered for the best constructed car, and the Rickenbacker trophy, for the fastest heat, were won by Jack Furstenberg, age 15, of Omaha, who raced an all-enclosed streamline vehicle.

In the final heat, in which the winners of each of the classifications competed on a handicap basis, Furstenberg finished third. The electrical timer showed that in the finals his car was 10 seconds slower in the heat in which he set the speed that earned him the Rickenbacker trophy. Second place was won by Claude Alexander of Chattanooga.

Crowds estimated at 60,000 persons, most of them in grandstands and bleachers erected along Burkhardt Hill, watched the races. The event, which was singularly free from mishaps, was run on a brick paved high 3-8 mile long with a grade as high as 12 per cent. The crowd was frequently thrilled by exhibitions of quick-thinking and skillful driving on the part of the youngsters, and many a racer who did not cross the line first in his heat received louder and longer applause than the winner, in tribute to some feat of skill or nerve. One such driver was 14-year-old Claude Healy of Detroit. In the semi-final heat, an iron tire broke and curled up, and Healy drove the last 60 yards with his left front wheel jammed to a standstill, yet succeeded in keeping his car from going into the rail.

The neatest trick of the race was performed by an unidentified driver. Just as he crossed under the bridge at the finish line, the rubber tire of his right front wheel came off. As the driver overtook the rolling tire he calmly reached out, picked it up, and waved it to the crowd to show that all was well.

The races throughout the country were sponsored by the Chevrolet Motor Company and leading newspapers in the various cities. The championship at Dayton, sponsored by Chevrolet and the Dayton Daily News, had the official backing of the leading civic organization of Dayton in collaboration with Myron E. Scott, Dayton News photographer, who originated the Soap Box Derby as a local event last year.

The races were broadcast over a national hook-up, with 51 outlets, by the NBC, who sent Graham McNamee, famous radio sports announcer, to describe the race, assisted by Tom Manning, also of NBC.

The national championship event climaxed a two-day program of continuous racing. It required all day Saturday to run off the Dayton local contest, with 424 entries, and to decide the all-Ohio championship, which was won by Charles Baer, 11, of Akron.

State Legion Officer To Be Here September 5

Gray A. Mann, assistant service commissioner for the Louisiana department of the American Legion, will be in Monroe Wednesday, September 5, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 noon for the purpose of contacting and assisting ex-service men with their claims against the veterans administration, according to a communication received here yesterday.

While here Mr. Mann will be located at the veterans' service office on the second floor of the parish courthouse. Veterans are asked to bring all correspondence and information about their claims when calling to confer with Mr. Mann.

Injured Woman Thinks First Of Her Child

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25.—(P)—The safety of her 16-month-old baby was the first thought of Mrs. Catherine Eddie when she regained consciousness in a hospital today.

Mrs. Eddie tossed the child to the sidewalk as she was struck by a trolley car at a downtown intersection last night. She fell under the rear wheels of the car and surgeons later amputated her left leg.

"Was she hurt?" the 23-year-old mother asked when she came to. "No—just bruised," was the reply. "I'm so glad," she said before telling authorities her story.

TECH PREPARES DORMITORIES FOR FALL OPENING

House cleaning is the principal activity at Louisiana Tech these days, as members of the buildings and grounds staff prepare for the fall opening of the college on September 17. Special attention is being given to the dormitories, which house about one-third of Tech's students. Pictured above: (1) and (2), are exterior and interior views of one of the men's dormitories. (3) Front section of the women's hall. (4) One of the girls' parlors. Mrs. Mattie F. Bartlett, (4), supervises the women's dormitories, and Mrs. W. L. FOE OF LOTTERY DIES AT GUEYDAN

W. L. Doss, Former Morehouse Solon, Buried
Last Thursday

The death of W. L. Doss, Sr., at his home in Gueydan, La., last Wednesday, removed one of the last remaining leaders of the fight against the notorious "Louisiana Lottery Law," which agitated the state fifty years ago. Mr. Doss, who was a representative from Morehouse parish at the time, was bitterly opposed to the lottery law and resisted every attempt by its protagonists to win his support. His constant opposition was one of the factors that eventually brought about the defeat of the law.

Mr. Doss was 84 years old at the time of his death. He was born at Pleasant Hill, Ala., February 2, 1850. When he was 24 he came to Louisiana and settled in Morehouse parish, where he became a successful cotton grower and business man. He was one of the most widely known planters in north Louisiana. On February 25, 1880, he married Miss Jennie Kelly of Bastrop, who survives him. During the lottery agitation he was elected to the state legislature from Morehouse parish and served two terms.

In 1894 he disposed of his large plantation and business interests to D. W. Pipes and moved to Gueydan in Vermillion parish, where he became a business and civic leader. He built the first store and was instrumental in establishing the first school and the Methodist church of Gueydan. His funeral, held last Thursday, was attended by groups from all sections of the state. Besides his wife, he is survived by two sons and two daughters: Rev. W. L. Doss, Jr., of Ruston, presiding elder of the Ruston district of the Methodist conference; T. J. Doss, Gueydan; Mrs. W. J. Martin, Gueydan, and Miss Bessie Doss, Gueydan. Three brothers who were his business associates in Morehouse parish, preceded him in death and are buried at Bastrop.

Among relatives who survive are three sisters and a brother of Mrs. Doss, who live in Monroe. They are: Mrs. S. E. Robinson, Mrs. W. F. Patton, Mrs. F. McCormick, and J. F. Keller. F. L. Keller, a half-brother of Mrs. Doss, lives at Bastrop.

Last Rites Held At Natchez For Former Louisiana Lumberman

FERRIDAY, La., Aug. 25.—(Special)—Final rites were held at Natchez Friday for John P. Warren, 75, prominent employe of the Fisher Lumber corporation, formerly of Ferriday, who died Tuesday morning in Detroit, Mich., where he was working at the time of his death.

Rev. Charles G. Bruce, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ferriday, officiated at the services at the home here. Interment was made in the family plot of the city cemetery in Natchez.

Mr. Warren was a member of the Presbyterian church, the Knights of Pythias and of the Woodmen of the World. He is survived by four children, Arthur Warren of Baton Rouge, Mrs. W. A. Russell of New Castle, Ind., Mrs. Curtis Penton of Sterling, J. P. Warren, Jr., of Ferriday, and one sister, Mrs. E. Q. Swihart of Clio, Mich.

Jane Davis Wins First Place In 'Stunt' Show

For her song and tap dance number, Jane Davis was awarded first place in the "stunt" night program Friday night at the municipal auditorium. Mary Turk won second place with her acrobatic exhibition and third place went to Betty Jane Pierce for her tap dance number. The program, under the auspices of the Monroe recreation department, was sponsored by the Monroe Lions club. Other numbers on the program included a song, acrobatics and tap dance by Joy Anthony, a harmonica number by LeRoy Hooter, a song by Bobby O'Donnell, whistling numbers by Willie Nettles, song by Barbara Sackett, cornet duet by Dorothy and Evelyn Kirkman of Shreveport and musical numbers by the recreation department band.

A. B. Clarkson, Dr. S. A. Collins, Mike Winberry and Dr. N. G. Gaston of the Lions club were in charge of the program and served as a judging committee.

Similar programs, under the sponsorship of the Monroe Kiwanis and Y's Men's clubs, will be held on the two succeeding Friday nights.

NEW RED RIVER BRIDGE OPENED

Traffic Now Moving Over
$350,000 Span Near Marksville

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 25.—(P)—The $350,000 bridge over the Red river at Moncla, near Marksville, was opened today for traffic by the Louisiana highway commission, it was announced by Chairman A. P. Tugwell.

The bridge has not yet been formally accepted by the commission, but the contractors have permitted it to be opened today to accommodate the farming section on the north side of the river by allowing movement of cotton over the bridge to Marksville.

The bridge had been under construction since March, 1931, when the contract was let to the Bateman Construction company. This company defaulted and the Union Indemnity company, their bondsmen, re-let the contract to Miller-Hutchinson company. Following the crash of the Union Indemnity company, the highway commission arranged for completion of the bridge and construction of an extension to meet new levee lines, with Miller-Hutchinson and Stevens Brothers.

In 1884, 90 inches of rain and melted snow fell on Mt. Hamilton, in California; in 1885, only 18 inches of moisture fell at the same place.

MENJOU MARRIES VEREE TEASDALE

Film Stars Take Vows
Without Usual Fanfare Of Movies

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—(P)—None of the usual movie fanfare attended the wedding today of Adolphe Menjou and Veree Teasdale.

Slipping through a side door into the quiet chamber of Judge James H. Pope in the halls of justice, the motion picture pair repeated the vows in the presence of only Menjou's mother and his brother, Harry Menjou.

Then Mr. and Mrs. Menjou drove to their new home to superintend the unloading and placing of the specially built furniture scheduled to arrive today from the factory.

Their real honeymoon will not begin until Monday, when they leave on a ten-day motor trip through northern California.

Miss Teasdale, who has been in pictures but two years, is attaining a reputation as one of Hollywood's "best dressed" women; she has been previously married. Menjou, who enjoys the title of the movies' best dressed man, has been married twice before.

To Please His Bride, Staged a Tiger-Boar Death Duel

And Just What Happened When the Jungle Terror Met the Slashing, Be-Tusked Porker in a Three-Round Bout

The Palace of the Maharajah of Udaipur, on an Island in Lake Pichola, Which Was the Scene of the Spectacular Wild Animal Fight Staged as the Outstanding Feature of the Three-Day Marriage Fete.

BOMBAY

By a Special Correspondent.

FOR weeks the great and wealthy Maharajah of Udaipur had devoted himself to planning the three-day festival that was to mark the wedding of his lovely, young blue-blooded cousin, Princess Vijakunweba, and Raj Kumar Shri Partab Singhi, scion of one of the proudest and most powerful families in all India.

The wedding was described as an alliance of "the sun" and "the moon" and naturally the Maharajah was eager not only that the great event should be celebrated with all the traditional pomp and magnificence, but should also include some unique event.

But the day of the great ceremony was approaching rapidly and the Maharajah in his beautiful white palace, situated on a bank of the Lake of Pichola, could think of nothing new to stage that would forever linger in the minds of the attending potentates who were coming from all over India to participate in the feasting and revelry. For hundreds of years, the great maharajahs of his country had arranged wedding feasts and festivals and it seemed that they had exhausted all possibilities of novel entertainment.

In the end, the Maharajah called in the prospective bridegroom. The young man thought for a few moments and then whispered a few words in the ear of the mighty ruler.

"Magnificent!" the Maharajah told him. "It shall be done, and none of my illustrious predecessors ever thought of such a thrilling spectacle. Which is strange, for they were imaginative and ingenious men."

And he brought his finger to his lips, in token that no one—not even the bride—should be told in advance of the great treat they planned.

Rajahs and maharajahs from the far corners of the empire arrived on elephants and in motor cars, with their families and retinues, days before the wedding.

None of the great people of India wanted to miss the festival, it seemed. On the long-awaited wedding-day the bridegroom arrived riding on an elephant that was gaudily caparisoned and decorated with silver and gold bells and ornaments studded with precious gems.

There was only one drawback to the gaiety of the event. The heat was so terrifically intense that K. S. Duleep-sinhji, celebrated cricketer and brother of the groom, could not attend.

During the ceremony and the festival that followed—in which a thousand beautiful slave girls danced to native tunes played by the greatest musicians of the empire, elephants fought battles in the pit outside the palace—all gasped at the host's prodigality.

Like a shrewd stage manager, however, the ruler of Udaipur had saved his surprise treat for the very end of the celebration, towards sunset of the third day.

Then all of the visiting notables and the bride and groom were invited to gather around the sides of the wild animal pit. They were amazed at what they saw there.

First a Bengal tiger was sent into the pit. The great cat strode around the arena, sniffing at the ground and howling his terrifying jungle hymn of hate.

"They will have two tigers fight," said one rajah to another. "It is always done. A little boring, if I may be permitted to say so."

But when the gate at the other side of the pit opened, there emerged into view not another tiger, but a huge and ferocious-looking wild boar. A cry of delight came from the bride.

A just mated bride of the Occident would have looked upon such entertainment during her wedding party as most distressing, but to the young girl of India, it was the highest honor her distinguished uncle could have paid her.

To her, it was a superb

"Her knight came a-riding on an elephant." At Left Is Seen the Blue-Blooded Groom—Raj Kumar Shri Partab Singhi—As He Arrived for the Ceremony on a Caparisoned Pachyderm.

Among Other Thrilling Sporting Entertainments at the Udaipur Wedding Was This Fight Between Elephants. The Wall Prevents the Mammoth Combatants From Trampling Each Other to Death. The Riders Spur the Huge Battlers Into Battering Each Other's Heads and Tusks.

"The Bengal tiger set himself to spring but before he could fling his tawny, striped body at his enemy, the boar was upon him, slashing away with his tusks and bobbing and weaving his head like a Maxie Baer of the animal kingdom."

piece of homage to her youth and beauty, one never to be forgotten.

While she and the hundreds of guests watched with tingling blood and popping eyes, the boar rushed, head down, at the tiger. Straight as a bullet he came, with the two horned tusks of his lower jaw giving off an evil gleam in the fast-fading sunlight.

As though he knew just where his most important audience was seated, the tiger had edged on velvet paws along the side of the arena until he was directly under the eyes of the bride and her young and handsome husband.

Then the Bengal set himself to spring but before he could fling his tawny, striped body at his enemy the fierce boar was upon him, slashing away with his tusks, bobbing and weaving like a Maxie Baer of the animal kingdom. Taken off his feet, the growling tiger fell back upon his haunches but his claws were busy, ripping away at the foe's coarse skin.

Just as though the bell had sounded for the end of round one, the boar drew off. The round had been even, for though the boar had torn a hole in the side of the tiger, his head had been cut open and blood oozed from his many wounds.

Once again the boar charged at the tiger. Round two had begun. But this time the big cat was ready for him. The Bengal sprang, they met with a dull, sickening impact. The boar scored with his left tusk but now the tiger had him by the throat, was grinding away with his sharp teeth and clawing like a wild animal gone mad.

If an American crowd of sports-lovers had been watching they would have been chanting in unison—"Down, going down, going o-u-t!" And it certainly looked for a time as though the boar was about to be knocked out.

But suddenly, even while he grunted loudly with the agonizing pain, the boar tore free. Once again he ran a little distance away to charge gallantly at the silken-backed foe whose jaws were now covered with blood. And this time, as at first, he caught the tiger off balance. Down went the boar's head then up came his tusks. But here the tiger's flashing footwork aided him immensely. More often than not he sidestepped the dangerous attacks of his foe.

Then the tiger again seized with his teeth the swamp terror. He had him by the neck this time, and he was shaking the cumbersome beast as a cat shakes a rat. Everyone looking on was rooting now for the boar, who had put up such a gallant fight for his life.

A cheer went up as the be-tusked monster again got free of the great cat and dashed away. Would he turn again and charge? But even as he ran the pretty bride held up her hand as a signal that she thought the bruising battle had gone far enough.

And just as the referee halts a ring battle, her gesture ended the fight. A door in the wall was opened and the boar was glad enough to scoot through it. Infuriated at being cheated of his prey the Bengal tiger rushed wildly around the arena, roaring until the whole structure seemed to shake. But, in the end, he allowed himself to be coaxed into a cage.

The grateful smile that lingered on the girl's lips was reward enough for her groom and her uncle. Both considered themselves well-repaid for the trouble of having the wild boar transported hundreds of miles from his native swamps.

And not at all unpleasant to the ears of the master of Udaipur were the praises of the other maharajahs. "You are an innovator," one said. The simple tribute was welcome, more so than any honeyed compliment could have been.
